Daring Royal Gowns Get Mixed Reception

Remarks from "delightful" to "shocking" were voiced in Britain yesterday after the Queen and Princess Margaret appeared at separate functions in these daring gowns. Queen, left, at a British Museum reception in London wore white tulle dress cut low in front and back and held up precariously by slim jewelled straps. Margaret, in her blue satin strapless, low-cut gown attended a university ball in Staffordshire and danced with students until the early hours. See full story on page 34.—(AP Photofax.)

'It's Hard to Believe,' Engineer Mutters

Brand New Bridge Tumbles Into River

WINNIPEG (BUP) — The designer of Winnipeg's Waterman Bridge across the Assiniboine River, Dr. P. L. Pratney of Montreal, was flying here last night to find out why the bridge collapsed the first time it was used.

The $135,800, 280-foot suspension bridge, carrying a 36-inch water main, buckled in the centre and plunked into the river at 11.30 p.m. Wednesday, less than eight hours after water works officials turned on the pressure.

The bridge was constructed by Dominion Bridge Company Ltd., and had not yet been turned over to the city.

City officials were to meet today to discuss the city's responsibility

City engineer W. D. Hurst said the collapse was "absolutely incredible, a complete freak."

"It's hard to believe," he muttered shortly after viewing the wreckage.

Dr Pratney has designed almost every major bridge in Canada including the Lions' Gate Bridge in Vancouver and Montreal's Jacques Cartier Bridge.

None of the waterworks officials could give an explanation for the collapse. They said the bridge might be salvaged but it would be a difficult job.

The bridge, designed by Templeton Engineering and built by Dominion Bridge Company Limited, had not been turned over to the city.

From U.K. Bases

Britain Can Veto U.S. Bomb Attacks

LONDON (UP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan told aroused Laborites yesterday that American planes carrying H-bombs could not launch a nuclear attack from British bases without the permission of the British government.

Macmillan said in a speech before the House of Commons that the U.S. government has given a "firm undertaking that these bases will not be used for military operations except in agreement with the British government."

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd raised a storm of Laborite criticism when he revealed that American planes were carrying H-bombs on routine patrols out of Britain.

Labor leader Hugh Gaitskell asked Macmillan if the British veto power applied to planes in the air as well as on the ground.

"There is no distinction whether the aircraft is as it were, sitting on the airfield ready to take off, or on patrol or on training duties in the air," Macmillan replied.

He confirmed that the U.S. Air Force has no ballistic missile units stationed in Britain.

Sub-Fired Red H-Bomb Could Raze New York

WASHINGTON (UP) — Russia can fire a missile armed with an H-bomb from a submarine 500 miles at sea and all but wipe out a city like New York, according to U.S. secret agents.

This evaluation of Russia's might was part of a top-secret report made to the senate military preparedness subcommittee by the central intelligence agency. The report shocked the senators.

The defense department, meanwhile, pushed for quick production of the army Jupiter and the air force Thor.

'May Hurt a Bit' Dentists Warned

TORONTO (CP) — The executive secretary of the Canadian Dental Association said Thursday full-scale health insurance is coming to Canada and dentists should prepare for it.

Dr Donald W Gullett told the Toronto Academy of Dentistry that it — and other dental groups — should organize voluntary insurance plans "if we are to retain control of dental services."

Only two of Canada's 75 dental associations had exhibited any interest in the matter last year, "a most apathetic attitude to a matter which can alter the lives of every Canadian dentist."

Gullet said hospital insurance is the first step; medical services were next, then dental care.

City Council Decides

Amalgamation Issue To Be Put to the Vote

Jaycees' Request Granted

City council yesterday voted unanimously to ask the electors Dec. 12 if they favor having a royal commission investigate amalgamation of part or all of Greater Victoria.

It took this action on the suggestion of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which said in a letter that the people were entitled to have the question of amalgamation properly examined.

Proposal is that if the voters of Greater Victoria favor a royal commission on amalgamation, it should be appointed by the provincial government and the cost shared among the municipalities and the province.

See other amalgamation stories on pages 7, 21

WILL BE BACKED

"This is something I am sure will receive the support of council and the councils of the surrounding area," Ald. J. Donald Smith said.

"I quite agree with you, Ald. Smith," said Mayor Percy Scurrah. "I would like to hear what the electors feel about it."

SOME DOUBT

There was some doubt last night that other Greater Victoria councils would comply as readily with the junior chamber's call for a December referendum, but Eric Charman, amalgamation committee chairman of the Jaycees, said he was confident there would be a referendum at least within six weeks.

He was sure, he indicated, that the junior chamber could submit petitions signed by more than 10 per cent of the electorate morally obliging councils to arrange referendums.

Provincial government will give "favorable consideration" to any request from Greater Victoria municipalities for an investigation into the question of amalgamation, it was learned yesterday.

At the same time sources said it was doubtful the government would take any action unless a specific request for a government-sponsored study came from Victoria and municipal councils.

Pensioners Get Their $9 Raise

A pay raise is a happy event for anyone, and this smiling couple, Mr. and Mrs. Knox Carmichael of Kiwanis Village, were among the 816,651 oldsters who benefited by a $9 old-age pension raise on their cheques yesterday. Mrs. Carmichael just turned 70 and will receive her first pension cheque next month.—(Colonist photo by Jim Ryan.)

Butter for Bullets in Price War

Grocers Compete In Give-Away War

A price war, or more properly a give-away war, may be breaking out in the suburbs with dairy products as the ammunition.

Alex Shafoval of Alex General Store on Jacklin Road in Langford yesterday started giving away a pound of butter with every $10 order of groceries.

He termed the offer of Colwood grocer Ernest B. Kay of a quart of milk with each $10 grocery order as small potatoes because "milk is not up to much compared with butter."

Kay began his giveaways when the B.C. Milk Board refused to let him sell bargain milk at 20 cents a quart.

$29,000 Off Target

'Finish Job Week'

Chest Fights for Very Life

The Community Chest is in a critical position.

It needs another $29,000 in the next week to reach its 1957 objective of $251,717.

If the objective is not reached many of the vital humanitarian services of its 20-member agencies will have to be curtailed in a year in which many believe they will be more necessary than ever before.

These statements were made yesterday in last-minute appeals by R. B. Wilson, president of the Community Chest, and Hector Alexander, campaign chairman.

Mr. Wilson referred to the final fund drive as "Finish the Job Week" and urged everyone who has not given—for any reason—to get their donations in.

"Failure to reach our goal will be a severe blow," he said. "Not only will some of the needy in the community go uncared for but the entire structure of the united appeal—one fund drive instead of 20—could be weakened. That would be calamitous."

Mr. Alexander said it was particularly distressing to find that nearly 1,000 business firms of various sizes in the community have not contributed at all, nor have members of their staffs unless they happened to do so in the residential canvass. "In the face of endorsement of the Community Chest by the Chamber of Commerce this apathy is hard to understand," he said.

Mr Alexander said that at a recent meeting of the Chest's board of directors, deep concern was expressed on behalf of the various agencies.

They pointed out that some neglected children who should be cared for by the Family and Children's Service will necessarily go uncared for. If failure to meet the objective means that the Victoria Order of Nurses has to curtail its services many critically ill persons who rely on V.O.N. home nursing care will go unattended.

Mr Alexander said that an average donation of another $1 per home would do the job.

"We are making one last appeal to those who were missed in the canvass and those who have not given for other reasons," he said. "And we appeal to those who have given to give just a little more."

Donations may be made in three ways.

1. Mail the donation form printed below, with your contribution, to the Community Chest, Spencerhouse, 1951 Cook Street, or deliver it yourself.

2. Telephone 25121 and your donation will be called for.

3. Leave it at the Hudson's Bay Company, Eaton's, Woodward's, Oak Bay Pharmacy, Staniake and Young in Keating or the Fish and Chip shop in Saanichton.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

PRESIDENT Eisenhower has been ill three times in the last three years. Each time, White House aides have told a lie to the press about it.

When he had a heart attack, they said he had a "digestive upset." When he suffered an attack of ileitis and surgeons had to remove part of his intestine, they called it "a stomach upset."

This time he had a small stroke, which involved damage to a brain artery. They called it a "chill."

The White House aides may have had good reasons for lying. It is quite possible that no government can get along without lies.

However, a liar defeats his own purpose if his falsehoods are too obvious, and if he gets found out every time.

In that event lying becomes a mere waste of effort.

The last untruth makes three in a row for the White House gang. Each time, the statement was proved false a short time after it was made.

Shadow Government

From now on, the motley crowd of administrative assistants and press secretaries who seem to have taken over duties as a shadow executive government, may as well save themselves the trouble of circulating a falsehood.

Since they have tried to deceive the American public on a number of important matters, including the president's health and the Russian head start in missile-making, and since their feeble attempts at deceit have been thoroughly exposed, nobody is going to believe anything they say.

A strong suspicion arises that there are more lies to be exposed. From here, it looks entirely possible that the president never was in proper shape to run or take office in the last election, and that he re-entered the White House a doomed man, a martyr to his party's selfish ambitions.

* * *

Since we are in the same camp as the Americans, dedicated in theory to honest popular government, it comes as a nasty shock to learn that so many highly-placed officers of the executive branch appear to believe in government by lies.

Commercial Fishing Shut Down

Vancouver Island commercial fishing is almost at a standstill with herring fishermen still on strike and the closing of salmon net fishing.

Only two small areas were still open to salmon net fishermen last week and they were closed Thursday by the federal fisheries department. Salmon net fishing will resume next summer.

Commercial salmon trolling and sport fishing is still unrestricted, but few commercial fishermen are bothering with trolling as it is not worth their while.

The Japanese earthquake of 1923, accompanied by tidal waves, cost 143,000 lives.

City Council Topics

No Bench-Ads For This City

Public works committee recommended to city council yesterday that tenders be called for placing benches on city streets with advertising on the backs.

The type of bench, location, number, and type of advertising would be controlled by the city manager, committee members said.

But council didn't like the idea.

Council is asking the people of Victoria to create winter employment by having work done on homes and property.

Question of acquiring property at the corner of Cook and Pandora, for eventual widening of Cook, was tabled.

Also tabled was a proposal that the city acquire property at the southwest corner of Government and Cormorant.

Council ratified its decision to continue negotiations with Woodward Stores Ltd., with regard to possible sale of city hall and other city-owned property in the area.

Abolition of bicycle-licensing from Jan. 1 was approved by council resolution.

Hamilton Named For Another Term

Provincial government has confirmed that Police Commissioner William Hamilton will be appointed for another two-year term, Mayor Percy Scurrah said yesterday.

Under the new Municipal Act, the police commissioners will no longer be elected. The mayor will be chairman of the commission, as in the past, but the province will appoint a commissioner one year and city council the next.

Election Fight Shapes Up

Five in Oak Bay Ring

Two late-filing candidates today will ensure a five-way fight for three Oak Bay council seats and at least one contestant for a vacant Oak Bay seat on the Greater Victoria school board.

Lawyer Kenneth Murphy, who had earlier announced intention of running, said he would file his nomination papers today to contest a council seat. He tried last year but was unsuccessful.

A newcomer to municipal elections, Kenneth Boorman, 44, of 957 Linkleas, submitted nomination papers Tuesday. Manager of a real estate, insurance and investment office in the city, it is his first attempt at elective office. A lieutenant-commander in the naval reserve, he said he plans "to do my best for Oak Bay."

He favors amalgamation with other Greater Victoria municipalities.

Others in the running are incumbent councillors Fred Hawes and George Murdoch, and ex-councillor Patrick Birley.

No papers had been taken out yesterday for the byelection for an Oak Bay trustee on the school board. The seat is left vacant by the resignation of Humphrey Golby, board chairman.

W. R. Freethy, 50, of 2178 Central, father of three school-age children, said last night, however, he would take out and file nomination papers today.

Monday is the last day for all nominations.

Boy Author Held for Assault

TORONTO (CP) — Assistant Crown attorney Nicholas D. MacRae Thursday night identified a youth charged in a tear gas shooting as the author of an authoritative book on jet planes and guided missiles.

Andrew Bilimovich, 18, was arrested Thursday after a woman was temporarily blinded by tear gas sprayed in her face on a downtown street. Charged with having a dangerous weapon and with shooting with intent to do bodily harm, he was remanded for mental examination.

Annette Douglas, 28, was treated at hospital for eye burns and released.

Mr. MacRae shown a photograph of the author of Jets and Missiles, said it is the same youth held here.

Bilimovich told police he is a writer and that he came here from Yugoslavia four years ago.

The author of Jets and Missiles moved to Winnipeg from Trieste, Yugoslavia, in 1953. He wrote the book when he was 15.

Practical, Timely Action

IN a clear-cut, significant step this week the Diefenbaker administration has acted to stem the severity of any work dislocation this winter by federal means. Parliament was invited to consider and pass into immediate action a two months' extension of seasonal unemployment relief schedules, beginning a month sooner and ending a month later than ordinarily. Independently of that the government has announced the setting in motion of early arrangements to have the Dominion increase its sharing of provincial relief costs, commencing on Jan. 1. The cost of both moves will be some $24,500,000 in addition to existing federal responsibilities. Parliament acquiesced.

Both actions are directed towards the same end, that of relieving any unearned distress which may eventuate this winter from the seasonal shortage of work, plus some slowdown in the national output, and an increased working force stimulated by a brisk period of active immigration. The 30-day extensions of the relief benefits before and after the normal season should be of help to individuals who may be affected by a lessening of employment opportunities in the next few months. A more realistic degree of help to the 10 Provinces with their unemployment relief costs should be equally welcomed. It is recognition of the part the latter play in the working out of national policy.

On both counts the moves are encouraging. They replace by direct action all theory or talk on what to do about the slack time of the coming winter. This will afford new leadership to the Canadian business structure as a whole, and encourage industrial and other response for a combined improvement of conditions as they may affect every part of the nation, before the release of fresh work next spring restores the normal balance between work openings and individuals to fill them. The statistical fact is that there have been more people gainfully employed in Canada this year than ever before in its history. The corollary, however, could be that seasonal unemployment in the next few months may be somewhat of the same order. Thus special measures were indicated. The federal government is taking them.

From the standpoint of its timing, the current move by the Dominion is as important as the action agreed upon. A straightforward facing up to the situation now should do more to offset the "bogey" of unemployment than all of the pages of statistics on record. There is nothing in the basic Canadian scene to cause undue uneasiness, or to suggest that the economy of this country cannot provide in due course for every employable individual who fits himself or herself for a job. What may need watching is the tide-over period of winter, and here the Dominion has made a sensible and timely start.

Victory Over TB

ONE of the most impressive triumphs of preventive and curative medicine, in which the people as a whole have had a hand, is to be found in the almost miraculous reduction of the incidence of tuberculosis in this country. Once the leading killer among diseases, TB in the last half-century has been brought down to thirteenth place. The success of the nation-wide—and world-wide—campaign is evidenced in the fact that in the last 10 years the Canadian death rate has been lowered from 47.2 per 100,000 population to 7.8. For a demonstration, one does not need to go beyond Victoria. In the last chest survey by mobile X-ray units in this region only eight active cases of TB were discovered in more than 13,000 examinations.

While new treatments and improved hygiene are important factors, it is early detection of TB which is playing a leading part in its eradication. Here is where the public has contributed, by supporting the annual TB Christmas Seal campaign from which the funds for diagnostic and preventive service are largely derived. Christmas 1957 marks the 50th anniversary of the seal plan, so that this is an appropriate time to pay tribute to its remarkable accomplishments.

Although the record is impressive and TB is no longer the dread disease it once was, the need for support for the Christmas Seal campaign has not been diminished. Much remains to be done, and for as far as one can see into the future the expense of prevention and diagnosis will remain. Besides the mobile and static X-ray clinics, which are the key to the whole system, there are treatment hospitals and other costly services as indispensable phases of the campaign as a whole.

This work will be just as heavy in the future as it has been up to now, and probably more costly, for the point has yet to be reached where diagnostic service can be made available to the entire population. We can all do our share by generous purchase of TB seals this Christmas.

Vain Posturings

SCARCELY anything could be more cynical than the efforts of the Liberals to distort to their advantage anything the Conservative government does or does not do. They display the kind of inordinate partisanship that many people find so distasteful about party politics. There is an adolescent element about them, also, which craves the credit no matter which way the turn of fortune goes. Vanity seems to be the Liberals' besetting sin, as witness the crescendo of arrogance which led to their defeat last June, and humility utterly foreign to them.

Thus Mr. James Sinclair when he told an Ottawa gathering of Liberals that their party had forced the Conservative government to act on its election promises. Had the latter not acted on them he would have been the first to condemn it for not doing so, and plume himself on such condemnation. That he should attempt to gain kudos by claiming credit for the carrying out of the Diefenbaker pledges shows the depths to which he and his party are reduced. In point of fact the Liberals are currently the most supine official opposition the House of Commons has had in many years.

The Conservative government is carrying out its election promises because these were made in good faith and Mr. Diefenbaker is an honorable man. Nothing the Liberals may do will prevent further implementing of these pledges where it is possible for this to be done. Already old-age pensioners and war veterans are reaping the benefit of swift attention to such obligations. Does Mr. Sinclair claim that this is due to the influence of the Liberals, when his own party's niggardly pre-election attitude to their needs refutes such vain posturings? He is merely illustrating that he cannot take a setback but must endeavor to acquire praise under any circumstances.

Interpreting the News:

Paris Meeting Ends Amicably

By ED SIMON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

AS described by one British correspondent, there was "a certain amount of table-pounding" in the early stages of the Paris talks between Prime Ministers Macmillan and Gaillard.

If the furniture actually took a beating the marks of violence weren't apparent in the communique that emerged from the talks

It spoke of "a spirit of solidarity," announced that the solution of the Algerian question lies with France declared that the prime ministers had "decided to make arrangements to avoid the recurrence of difficulties" and went on to speak of plans for next month's NATO conference

There was no hint of a British apology for the shipment of arms to Tunisia that touched off the dispute, nor of a French demand that Britain send no arms in the future Whatever soothing effect the conference may have had on ruffled feelings, it clearly left the Tunisian situation unchanged

If the meeting itself adjourned in an atmosphere of sweetness and light, its exterior trappings conveyed at least the window-dressing of hostility.

Steel-helmeted troops with rifles and machine-guns lined the outer wall of the British Embassy, where the talks were held. A few blocks away, baton-wielding police dispersed small knots of youthful demonstrators in the Place de la Concorde

Despite the undoubted sincerity of the angry young extremists in the streets, it was questionable if French public opinion was living up to its lurid press notices

A London News Chronicle reporter said the headlines and demonstrations created "a fictitious atmosphere" If there had been widespread emotionalism when the arms shipments were first announced, it had faded away.

For Gaillard, whose political survival depends on the goodwill of right-wing politicians favoring vigorous prosecution of the war against the Algerian rebels, the evidence of national indignation could do no harm

Although his own Radical Socialist party is split on Algerian policy he is committed to the government's present firm line The street demonstrations within earshot of a visiting British prime minister could not have been more timely.

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

—By TOM TAYLOR

SOMETIMES, perhaps, you may have wondered what the civil defence people are doing. Now and then you read of this or that exercise being held, and that's about all.

I have wondered too occasionally, but not any more. I spent an hour or so at CD headquarters the other day and got some glimpses of the planning that's being done.

It is amazingly wide and comprehensive

But the CD people work like moles, quietly. They have to. If they were shouting "wolf" every day we'd all get browned off. Our temperament isn't suited to perpetual warning.

So, knowing that we are a lackadaisical lot they concentrate on doing THEIR job which in its essence for us. And if the day of disaster struck I am sure we'd thank providence they'd done so well.

I couldn't begin to indicate the vast scope of their work It includes organizing warning networks, control facilities, CD centres, communications, liaison with Washington State—of which a big chunk has been set aside for Canadians in distress—traffic maps and plans, training and a hundred other things.

These things aren't just theoretical—they are on tap ready to go into operation

There is a basic premise to CD thinking This is the nuclear age and all protective steps are fashioned to the worst that could happen. If an emergency turned out not to be so lethal as it might be, all the better CD could deal with a lesser evil that much easier.

But it's as well that we all realize what we could be up against Assuming the worst it would be a sheer case of survival. That's the bluntness of it, nothing less And survival would be rough, primitive, elemental

In the event of evacuation for instance the proposition is that everyman and his family will feed itself for the first three or four days. By that time the provincial CD would have sustenance organized for the next three or four days After that federal arrangements would take over.

The next stage would be to fight back, for there's no use surviving if you're not going to fight back, whether this means pitching in against an enemy or restoring the community so it can help the nation keep going.

There is no compulsion about any of this, of course A person can just give up the ghost if he wants to CD will be too busy to interfere with such a preference.

A while back the CD people issued each one of us with a blue-covered booklet on what to do in event of nuclear or other attack I suppose most of us skimmed it over and then laid it down somewhere

We would be wise to unearth it and commit the instructions to memory After that it can be set aside, for we can't live in a constant fret.

But like the Boy Scouts we should be prepared.

That, as far as seems humanly possible, is what the CD organization is doing — preparing itself against possible disaster to the community.

I am writing this because I think that much assurance should be spread about, viz: the knowledge that at least some people are gearing themselves for our protection And it's a mountainous job.

I don't suppose they'd turn down a little help if anyone cares to join up with the CD organization.

Letter from London

Virtues and Vices Compared

By RICHARD L. THOMAS

I HAVE been having a look at Britain very much as I have been looking at Canada during the last four months—as a traveller, critical impersonal and inquisitive looking at things in the light of Canadian experience and not a little disturbed by what I found.

Standards of hotel service in Britain, for example, are miserably low despite generally lower charges. The most irritating example perhaps is the habit of most British hotels which advertise central heating installing electric fires in bedrooms with a coin slot attached If the guest requires heat he must first put the equivalent of 15c into the slot and he will then receive electric power at approximately four times the price the hotel is called upon to pay for it. If you do not happen to have the requisite shilling amongst your change you will have to go and get it.

For the first time I realized that British hotels tend to be more expensive for double occupancy than Canadian. The equivalent of a $6 room in a Canadian hotel which would cost from $7.50 to $8.50 for double occupancy will cost $12 in Britain the only difference being that it includes breakfast, which by Canadian standards would be worth perhaps $1.50. Against that must be set the 75c or so you will have to put in the slot for an electric radiator in your room.

If you remember to put your shoes outside the door the English hotelier will see to it that they are shined free, but if you forget it will be exceeding difficult to get a shine except on a street corner in London where a few licensed shoeblacks still operate and will be grateful for a 15c contribution for their services and not complain if it is only 10c There is nothing they can do about it if you make it only 5c except scowl and thank you in tones of sepulchral sarcasm for your generosity.

There are, of course, a few British hotels with higher standards, and hotels with a shoeshine parlor, and a menu which cannot be read in 30 seconds. In such places the price for a Canadian equivalent room is likely to be around $14 single and $28 double with breakfast the only compensation—but at least you will be spared the slot machine for heat.

Britain has a long way to go, too, before it catches up with Canadian railway standards for its crack trains. We all know that Canada can compete with Britain on the best of terms when it comes to certain rural lines—especially in Quebec and parts of Ontario but the main line expresses are far and away ahead of British Railways True the dining car only produces a $1.50 meal and throws the three courses at you, but the point is that you cannot get anything better even if you are prepared to pay for it.

On the highways I feel that Canada may learn from the old country. The standards of driving may not be better or worse but they are more courteous. Truck drivers have a courtesy all of their own, slowing down to let you pass in comfort signalling the state of the road ahead and should you acknowledge the courtesy with a wave of the hand as a salute they will flash their headlights in broad daylight to let you know that signal has been received, understood and appreciated. Fall driving in Britain, with the roads less crowded is a pleasant experience. Traffic moves more slowly on our rather tortuous highways but the spirit of sharing the road with others is dominant. The road hog exists, but he is rare.

It is useful too to find that British banks are still open for business on Saturday mornings, and that even government departments have half their staff on duty and do not close down altogether for 70 minutes for lunch. Comforting too to find aspirin on sale at 12c per 100 and coffee at 7c a cup. Against that we have to face up to gasoline at 75c a gallon—half of it tax and LP records at nearly twice the Canadian equivalent, of which a third of the retail price is tax Nor is it encouraging to have to pay nearly twice the price for tobacco for an identical brand processed in Britain and shipped to Canada

Philosophical reflection suggests that no country has a monopoly in living, that each has its own virtues and vices, and that even Mr Bennett's sales tax can be a blessed thing beside the weight of British imposition

I find that I now share the Canadian visitors' horror of the big British penny. The price of three telephone calls weighs four ounces, which may be one of the reasons why Britons almost invariably grow holes in their trouser pockets.

The Opposition That Doesn't

(From The Ottawa Citizen)

THE tactics employed by the Liberals during the present session, of criticizing the minority Conservative government but not voting against it, have not unnaturally encouraged another and much smaller group to seize the role of effective opposition for itself. This is the CCF.

This week, Mr St Laurent told the Commons that the Liberal Party would continue its policy of non-obstruction, which was indicated at the beginning of the session and indeed much earlier. The official opposition's stand is that the government should have an ample opportunity to bring in the main features of its legislative program and to introduce a tax-reducing budget in other words, that it should not be defeated before having a chance to implement its election promises

The Liberals could make this argument plausibly enough even if they were not faced with a leadership convention in January and therefore with the need for a breathing space before the next appeal to the voters The public, says Mr J W Pickersgill, doesn't want an election just now, and most of the evidence is that he is right

In pursuing their course, however, the Liberals must know they are taking risks. If they are not careful they may give a section of the electorate an impression that they really approve of the way the new government is performing

The CCF has no intention of running a similar risk "If my honorable friends the Liberals are not prepared to be the opposition," declares Mr. Stanley Knowles, "we are" The situation is almost made to order for this group. Opposition is the only role the CCF has ever known in Parliament, or seems likely to know in the foreseeable future. It is numerically just strong enough to carry some weight but not enough to have the slightest chance of being called on to form a government In this Parliament it can therefore move non-confidence motions to its heart's content, knowing that the Liberals are committed to a course that will prevent an early election.

But the CCF will still not fulfill the function of a true parliamentary opposition party, which is to be the alternative as a government to the party in office The Liberals remain the only alternative, though for a variety of reasons they may not be too anxious to stress the point at the moment.

Fun, Fact and Fiction

"I want to buy a television set on the installment plan," said the customer.

"Yes, madam," replied the salesman, "can you give us any references?"

"Oh, yes, the last dealer we bought one from will be glad to tell you that there wasn't a single scratch on the cabinet when he took it back"

If, as threatened, the railways abandon their dining cars what are they going to do with all the surplus fingerbowls?

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission says the West has plenty of uranium. Looking at the new crop of automobiles arouses some fear, however, that we may run out of chrome.

Parson (meeting a neighbor bringing home a load of hay)—"Wouldn't it be better if you attended services instead of working this way?"

Farmer — "Parson, I don't know whether it would be best to sit on a load of hay and think of religion or sit in church and think of the hay."

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

IT should be apparent to all of us nowadays that it is useless to philosophize

For example, the commonest topic for philosophization during the past 30 years has been the decay of physical activity on the part of the rising generation Why, they won't even walk to the corner store for a 'coke' They must drive in the car Their eyes are being ruined by movies and TV. Their favorite sustenance is hot dogs and hamburgers. They fairly slosh in pop. We philosophers have been confidently predicting that within the generation we would have a race of frail, unmuscled weeds, capable of nothing that couldn't be managed without a button to push

Recently I was on a deer hunting expedition away outside my age group Our host turned his hunting camp over to his sons-in-law, and a party of 10 young men were our companions Only one of them was under six feet tall Most of them weighed around 180. Though only two had ever hunted before, they got more game than we old ones used to get in a week They were as strong as horses, quick as foxes; gutted, hung or dragged their deer without sweating; none got lost; and their poker games after dinner ran far past the traditional bedtime of the camp For their cook-out meals at lunchtime around the shores they preferred wieners and hamburgers, and pop was their favorite beverage

Now where have we philosophers gone wrong in our reasoning?

We old-timers shared their hot dogs, hamburgers and pop, and liked them!

Letters to the Editor

Degree Emporium

I notice that President Mackenzie of UBC is appealing for (1) sterner intellectual efforts to meet the Russian menace and (2) more money to further these efforts. This prompted me to examine the latest copy of the UBC calendar, in order to get some idea on what lines this noted savant might be expected to proceed.

earlier issue of the calendar the situation at UBC was lamentable, if not dangerous. All the courses offered were ones like mathematics, engineering, and history feeble defences indeed against the Red Tide. Now, however, all this has changed, and Khrushchev may well tremble.

I note, for example, that the learned doctor is prepared not only to explore with his charges the mysteries of a course called "Grasshockey One" but to give credit for it toward a degree. Nor is this all; for those whose thirst for knowledge is unusually keen, and who realize that the politburo may even in the face of this formidable counterblow remain undaunted, he offers the strenuous joys of "advanced grasshockey." No wonder there are signs of revolt among the satellites.

I note too that this redoubtable educator is prepared to instruct the young (whether personally or through deputies does not appear) in "rhumba, samba, tango and jive" and, once again, award credits for the same toward a degree. All these goings-on are, of course, partially supported by the taxpayer.

Naturally there may be some very simple explanation for all this, but till it is forthcoming I may be pardoned if I suggest my own. It is that Dr. Mackenzie on one of his far-ranging goodwill tours has discovered that there is a large country not too far from here where "degrees" are awarded for physical jerks to mental ones and that he has decided he can hardly in so vital a field afford to see his own emporium lag behind, especially in these days of crisis. But what all this has to do with the "sterner intellectual efforts" he has been talking about lately is rather hard to see.

Costly Experience

Your correspondent Mr. Harold Todd states that "the chance to take politics out of the whole amalgamation issue seems to have been lost by not asking the people if they are in favor of an investigation or survey into the matter."

While I agree with Mr. Todd's suggestion, surely he is aware of the fact that the present reeve attempted some time ago to put this question before the people of Saanich. It was solidly voted down by the "old guard." One can well understand the reeve's frustration and the utter uselessness of attempting to put another motion before the present council.

Now the "old guard" want to make it the main issue, thinking of course that the voters will forget all other matters, such as the loss the taxpayers sustained in the "old guard's" tactics on the addition to the municipal hall. That little experience cost us $10,000.

The "old guard" by opposing the reeve's sensible motion have shown they are unfit to represent the taxpayers of Saanich.

Ties for Christmas

Here is an idea that will, I believe, appeal to women and will not meet with disapproval from merchants.

Get your men folk right now to sort out their neckties and release those they no longer care to wear. Iron them and, if possible, Christmas wrap them, then send them to the Salvation Army or some deserving place for distribution. The stores will not lose by this idea, as there is no competition.

All know what a new tie does for the ego of your man. It will do even more for an OAP or someone on Skid Road, and need only cost a little time and effort.

No Authority

Car Tax Reports Denied

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister Fleming offered no Thursday when asked about published reports that the 10-per-cent excise tax on automobiles will be cut to five per cent.

"No such statement was authorized by the minister of finance or any government source that I'm aware of," Mr. Fleming told Victor Quelch (SC—Acadia).

EARLIER STATEMENT

Mr. Fleming said earlier in the session that if there is a reduction in the tax, applied at the manufacturer's level, dealers will get a rebate on tax they have paid for cars on their lots.

He has repeatedly said that all Conservative election promises will be met by the government. Prime Minister Diefenbaker promised during the election campaign that the excise tax would be reduced.

Tip Less, Pay More

MONTREAL (CP) — Persons patronizing restaurants should tip less and pay more—at least for coffee—says the president of the Canadian Restaurant Association.

Ross C. Brown of Vancouver, on a nation-wide tour of association branches, said the Canadian customer tips too much and too often.

A tip should be given only for service above a certain reasonable standard, he said.

Waiters and waitresses who knew they were going to be tipped no matter what they did seldom gave good service, nor did a restaurant owner whose help relied on tips to make up for low wages.

Restaurant owners, he said, would pay better wages and hold good waitresses if they could obtain a fair profit from their operations.

He said no profit could be made on such popular and low-cost items as coffee, milk and tea. The price for these should be 15 cents instead of the usual 10.

Delinquency Group Leader

Offset the World— Advice to Parents

Effectively counteracting unavoidable influences of modern society on children before adolescence is a job for parents anxious to erase chances of delinquency, [illegible] J. Willis Junior High School principal, said last night.

"Home was once a well-insulated unit," he told Oak Bay Kiwanis Club, "but due to modern communications the world comes crashing into the home daily influencing the life of youngsters."

[illegible] as products of a progressing society which "we wouldn't want to do away with—but we would like to control some aspects of it."

Punishment "has its place" in the control of juveniles Mr. Gillis said but should be used only as a "deterring effect," as laws applied to adults.

[illegible] becomes a means of revenge nothing is solved."

Roots of probable delinquents are established five or six years before the age of adolescence is reached, he said.

LITTLE IS DONE

"The signs are often recognizable at that age, but little is done about it," he said. "Later in the teens, when overt acts are committed, it may be too late to correct earlier oversights."

Mr Gillis is head of a committee appointed by the city welfare council to investigate Greater Victoria's particular juvenile delinquency problems.

A 45-page committee report the culmination of months of study devoted on the problem will be presented to the council Monday, he said.

'Put Up or Else Shut Up' Says Counsel for Sommers

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Sommers bribery conspiracy case was remanded again yesterday until Friday Dec. 6.

Prosecutor Stewart McMorran said that if he was to take charge of the case, alleging conspiracy to bribe Robert Sommers, former forests minister, by [illegible] lumber firms and their officials, he would [illegible] time to consult with Attorney General Bonner.

Alfred Bull, lawyer for Charles David Schultz and the C. D. Schultz Company, said it was "most amazing thing that the Crown is not ready."

Nicholas Mussallem, Mr Sommers' counsel, said "we don't agree to any adjournment."

"In plain language," Mr Mussallem said, "the Crown should either put up or shut up."

Bottle Neck Scored

City police commission will try to propose alternative ideas before city council passes a bylaw amendment setting a half hour evening parking limit within 100 feet of the Humboldt and Johnson Street liquor stores.

The half-hour evening limit will be recommended to council today by public works committee. But the police commission decided yesterday to ask for a meeting to discuss other possible arrangements.

Commissioner William Hamilton thought one-hour or 12 minute parking all day and then half-hour parking in the evening would be confusing and suggested half-hour meters be installed.

Deadly Fever Infesting Oregon Mice

PORTLAND (AP) — Deadly rabbit fever is spreading in a huge infestation of field mice in Eastern Oregon, the state board of health said Wednesday.

Experts say the infestation of mice runs as high as 10,000 per acre in some areas. It is one of the largest ever reported in the United States.

Rabbit fever or tularemia can be transmitted to humans. The board said it has a death rate of one fatality in 20 cases.

The field mouse infestation extends from Central Oregon to Northern California and from the Cascades to the Southern Idaho border.

Residents of the area "do not appear to be in any immediate danger of widespread disease outbreaks," Dr. Harold Erickson, the state health officer, said.

The disease could become a threat to humans, he said, if cold weather or shortage of food drive the mice inside.

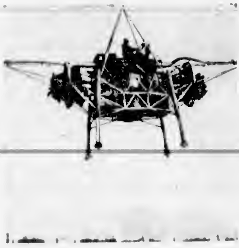
Pilot Killed

'Flying Bedstead' Crashes



THE 'FLYING BEDSTEAD'

HUCKNALL, England (Reuters) – The "Flying Bedstead" – the first jet plane to achieve a vertical takeoff – crashed yesterday at the Rolls Royce development factory here, killing the pilot.

The Flying Bedstead flew by means of a downward directed thrust from a jet engine.

The machine crashed while in flight from a crane to which it was tethered. The pilot was Wing Cmdr. Henry Gordon Larsen, 41.

The plane first flew in 1953 and is still a secret project, although it has been shown publicly.

Less than $1 an Hour Paid in Federal Parks

OTTAWA (CP) – Day-long Commons debate Thursday stalled progress of a private member's bill that would establish a minimum hourly wage of $1 for all employees under federal labor jurisdiction.

A succession of speakers, mainly Progressive Conservatives "talked out" the bill sponsored by Stanley Knowles, deputy CCF leader. This is an often-used tactic in the Commons to avoid a vote on an opposition proposal.

With debate adjourned, the bill goes to the bottom of a long list of private members' measures and is unlikely to be debated again this session.

George Hahn (SC – New Westminster) said there are workers in national parks earning less than $1 an hour. It was "unthinkable" that in these times anyone should be able to obtain labor for less than $1.

Mr. Knowles, opening the debate, said the federal administration could lead the way in labor legislation by accepting his proposal.

His bill would provide that any employer under its jurisdiction be liable to a maximum fine of $200 or 30 days in jail for failure to pay the minimum wage.

Mr. Knowles said the measure would round out the federal labor code. To enable other supporting members to suggest adjustments to the bill he would favor referring it to the House committee on industrial relations.

Gordon Chown (PC – Winnipeg South) said he would be more sympathetic to the bill if it omitted two clauses which would limit room and board charges an employer my make and would require an employer to pay for any special clothing or tools an employee must use.

Earnings Lower For Railways

MONTREAL (CP) – Canadian Pacific Railways reports net earnings of $1,808,187 for October, 1957, compared with $5,026,272 for the corresponding month last year, a decrease of $218,085.

For the first 10 months of this year, net earnings were $29,466,233 compared to $33,027,184 for the corresponding period last year, a decrease of $3,561,251.

CNR RUNS IN RED

Canadian National Railways reported a deficit of $185,000 in net operating income for October. This compares with a credit of $9,057,000 in net operating income for the corresponding month of 1956.

For the first 10 months the CNR earned net operating income of $3,281,000.

Wurtele, Diespecker Veto Plan

Amalgamation Vote Spurned

Victoria won cheers from the Jaycees and the Saanich reeve yesterday for taking a giant step toward a study of amalgamation.

But despite eleventh-hour ef[illegible] have simultaneous referendums in three district municipalities Dec. 12, the chances of achieving this goal appeared as slim as ever last night.

Eric Charman, head of the Jaycee amalgamation committee, said the unanimous support received from Victoria "is indeed most encouraging."

"Doubtless the three neighboring municipalities will afford their ratepayers the same opportunity to express their opinion as to whether an investigation should be initiated," he said.

Saanich Reeve Arthur Ash commended the Jaycees for "taking an interest in this most important and pressing matter."

In initiating a referendum he said the city "took a sane and sensible step" and then added hopefully: "It would be wonderful if the other councils did the same."

Mr. Ash's opponent in the reeveship battle said last night he will oppose any motion put next Monday calling for a referendum.

Coun. Eugene Diespecker [illegible] city's interests. But it is certainly not in the interests of Saanich. And I don't think Oak Bay and Esquimalt are going to change their minds."

Referring to a plea by Mr. Charman to call a special meet[illegible] have referendum called by the December election, Esquimalt Reeve Alfred Wurtele said last night:

"The time is too short for it. Everything must be ready 10 days before the election to [illegible]"

He said he did not think his council had changed its views on amalgamation. "We had a good report last year and at the invitation of the mayor we sent representatives to study it. It didn't get very far."

He said it was silly to go after another report and said Esquimalt was more interested in a good intermunicipal committee than amalgamation.

Starr Again Offers To Act in Sea Strike

LABOR MINISTER STARR

OTTAWA (CP) — Labor Minister Michael Starr said Thursday he would be willing to try again to mediate in the strike against Canadian Na [illegible] parties gave assurances they would try to reach a satisfactory settlement.

He said in the Commons, however, that he offered twice before to mediate "this unfortunate strike" and both times was rejected by Hal Banks, Canadian director of the Seafarers' International Union (CLC).

Mr. Starr was replying to a suggestion by Alex Macdonald (CCF - Vancouver Kingsway), that the minister call a meeting of the company and union, possibly aided by Canadian Labor Congress President Claude Jodoin.

Rich Gifts Boost Fund

Sparked by three healthy donations from motor company employees, bridge players and a city couple, The Daily Colonist's "500 Christmas Fund" yesterday rose well above a total of three dollars for each of the 500 neediest families in this area.

A $50 donation came from the National Motors' Employees' Charity Fund, while the Victoria Duplicate Bridge Club and Mr and Mrs. E. L. Fielding each sent gifts of $25.

With a smaller contribution signed simply "W.C." came a note "Hoping this will make a happier Christmas for some one."

Fund total now is more than $1,600 or to be exact, $3.23 for each family—still well below the individual cheques of $14.53 sent out last Christmas. Donations can be mailed to The 500 Christmas Fund, The Daily Colonist, 2631 Douglas, or taken to the Colonist office there, or the downtown office at 1215 Broad.

Naval Fire Department said yesterday it will canvass the Belmont area Friday evening to sell tickets to its fund benefit bingo in Club Sirocco Wednesday. This canvass may mean sale of most of the 900 seats so interested persons are urged to buy their tickets at Hudson's Bay store as soon as possible.

'World Citizen' Davis Kicked Out of France

PARIS (UP) — Garry Davis, 36, self-styled world citizen, was ordered expelled permanently from France yesterday.

The American-born Davis was ordered out of France by Dec. 2. He faces a six-month to three-year prison sentence if he returns.

Last weekend he was arrested in front of NATO headquarters as he was handing out ballots for a world referendum. He was given a suspended jail sentence.

Coaching Staff of Flying 'Y'

Big improvement of Archie McKinnon's Flying "Y" swimming club the past two seasons has been reflected by a capable coaching staff which includes a number of former Victoria swimming greats. Flying Y is rapidly rising as a power in Pacific Northwest swim circles and the city club will get a chance to boost its laurels Saturday night when it hosts Bremerton in an inter-city gala at the Crystal Garden at 7.15. Handling the coaching chores are, left to right, Gordie Lawrence, Bill Turkington, Jack Todd, McKinnon, Joan McLagan, Andy Wong, Ken Hurn, Bob Johnstone and Denny Walker.—(Colonist photo by Jim Ryan.)

Speaking Briefly

Pro Grid Leagues Considering Break from Controlling Union

Canada's two big professional football leagues took tentative steps yesterday to break away from the Canadian Rugby Union, possessor of the Grey Cup since 1920.

The action came at the annual meeting of the Canadian Football Council, organized two years ago by the Western Interprovincial Football Union and the Big Four Football League. The meeting agreed that the subject of a break will be discussed by officials of the nine professional clubs in their home cities and that formal action of some nature will be taken at the next CFC meeting Jan. 17.

The two pro circuits are of the opinion that they are deep in the big business of operating football and don't want the CRU or any organization telling them what to do.

If the split were made it could conceivably lead to unlimited importation, an interlocking schedule or one big Canadian league and even the eventual ending of the annual Grey Cup classic.

The cup is the biggest point in the CRU's favor since the organization controls the cup and could withdraw it from competition if it saw fit.

Gutoski Stopped by Taylor; Streak Ends at Eight Games

Victoria's Tony Gutoski took the lead in the race for Grand Aggregate honors at the Totem Bonspiel late last night and reached the fours in the Evergreen Event (No. 2 primary) with an easy 11-4 win over Kels McMurdo of Vancouver.

Gutoski now meets Earl Bennett of Vancouver, who edged out Roy Forsyth in another quarter-final game. Mert Ballard and Charlie Cook of Vancouver are the other semi-finalists.

VANCOUVER (Special) — Clubmate Gar Taylor finally stopped Tony Gutoski as the rink skipped by the icemaker at the Victoria Curling Club was threatening a clean sweep at the third annual Totem bonspiel.

Taylor who had lost only once, built up an early lead and came out on top, 7-5, in the eights of the Totem Event, the No. 1 primary, to become the first of the six Vancouver Island rinks to get in the prizes.

Gutoski, who had won eight in a row, was left in the eights of the Evergreen Event, the No. 2 primary and was scheduled to play Kels McMurdo of Vancouver on a late draw last night. Gutoski can win the Grand Aggregate if he can win the Evergreen Event. The Victoria skip had an 8-1 record going into last night's draw, the same as Ken Anderson of Calgary.

However, Gutoski has a possible three games left, while Anderson was in the semi-finals of the Totem Event and couldn't get better than a 10-1 record. Gutoski could finish 11-1.

Winner of the Grand Aggregate is the rink with the best winning percentage in the two primary events.

Also in contention for the Grand Aggregate are Frank Avery, McMurdo and Roy Forsyth of Vancouver. The former two have 7-1 records, while Forsyth was 6-1 going into last night's late draws. Taylor also had an outside chance, being 6-1 in the two primary events with a possible two games left.

Taylor will meet Harold Dick of Vancouver in one of the semi-finals in the Totem Event while Anderson plays Thursty Anders of Vancouver in the other.

Rinks left in the Evergreen Event were Merrick, Cook, Ballard and Avery in the top half of the eights and McMurdo, Gutoski, Bennett and Forsyth in the bottom half.

McMURDO IMPRESSIVE

McMurdo, who knocked Bung Cartmell out of the unbeaten ranks on Tuesday, looked impressive in handing Anderson his first defeat yesterday in the 16s of the Evergreen Event. McMurdo's quartet had an 11-0 lead before Anderson got the chalk and was, of course, never threatened.

Avery hit the dust on a late draw Wednesday, taking a trimming from the rink entered by Elmer Meier of Vancouver and skipped by Professor Whit Matthews.

One of the six Island rinks bowed out of the bonspiel on Thursday. Gordie Moore of Victoria was knocked out of the Evergreen Event when he lost, 10-4 to Gutoski in a morning draw. Then Moore was beaten, 7-3, by F. S. Douglas of Vancouver in a late afternoon draw in the Stanley Park Event.

Bill Osborne of Port Alberni, who was beaten by Dick, 9-7, in the eights of the Totem Event was in the 16s of the Vancouver Event while Dr. Bowker of Ladysmith was in the eights of the Vancouver Event. Taylor was left in only the Totem Event when Cartmell handed him a 7-3 defeat last night in the Dogwood Event.

And Jack Moir of Victoria, the sixth Island entrant, who had lost his first five games, was the only Island rink in two events. He was in the eights of both the Vancouver and Stanley Park events, defeating Hills of Calgary, 8-4 in the latter competition last night.

Last night's score: Morrison's Chevs 43, Dickinson & Dunn 38.

Next game: Saturday, Victoria College vs. Dairy Queen Eds, 1:30, Central Junior High School gym.

Morrison's Chevs picked up their first victory of the new Senior "B" Men's Basketball League campaign last night by outlasting a shorthanded Dickinson & Dunn squad, 43-38, at Central Junior High School gym.

Dickinsons, who could have moved into a first-place tie with Victoria College Vikings with a victory last night, had only four players on hand to play the Chevs. Norm Parker was called down from the stands and the Tiremen went the distance with five men.

In preliminary women's division games, Victoria College Vikettes downed Meteors, 31-25, and Polyettes edged Victoria B's, 32-29.

Goalkeepers Have Hot Night As Canyens Regain NHL Lead

Tremendous goalkeeping featured play last night as all six National Hockey League clubs saw action in three games which produced only nine goals despite the unusually-high total of 212 shots, an average of more than 35 per team.

Most spectacular of the goal- [illegible] Chicago, who lost, and Terry Sawchuk of Detroit Red Wings, who was his old self as he stemmed Toronto Maple Leafs to gain a 3-3 tie for his club.

But Jacques Plante of Montreal Canadiens, who blanked the Hawks, 2-0; Boston Bruins' Don Simmons, who blanked the Rangers, 1-0, and Marcel Paille of the Rangers and Ed Chadwick of the Leafs were also in top form.

	GP	W	L	T	F	A	Pts
Montreal	19	12	4	3	78	42	27
New York	20	11	5	4	55	60	26
Boston	21	10	9	2	58	56	22
Chicago	21	7	10	4	30	48	18
Detroit	21	6	10	5	56	66	17
Toronto	21	6	11	4	63	71	16

Last night's scores: Montreal 2 at Chicago 0; Toronto 3 at Detroit 3; New York 0 at Boston 1.

Next games: Saturday, Chicago at Montreal, Boston at Toronto, Detroit at New York.

Results moved the Canadiens a point in front of the Rangers, who have lost three in a row, and moved the onrushing Boston Bruins within four points of the New York club. Fifth-place Detroit and sixth-place Toronto each gained a point on fourth-place Chicago, slipping slowly back.

Hall was little short of phenomenal at Chicago. Last season's all-star goalkeeper kicked out 41 of 43 shots, 24 of them in a second period in which Canadiens hemmed the Hawks in for almost the full time and poured rubber at Hall. At one stage, Hall kicked out seven shots in less than a minute.

FINALLY YIELDED

But he finally had to yield, Boom Boom Geoffrion breaking through all alone to give the agile Chicago goalie no chance at all. Geoffrion got the second Montreal goal in the third period, clicking during a power play.

Plante played well to rack up his second shutout and handled 25 shots.

Sawchuk played brilliantly in making 43 saves in a wide-open game at Detroit. He misjudged the bounce on a long shot by Brian Cullen which tied the score at 1-1 but more than made up for it with a series of terrific saves stopping 35 of 36 shots in the first two periods.

At the other end, Chadwick was almost as busy and had to make 39 stops to prevent the Wings from winning.

DEA GETS TWO

Billy Dea, with his third and fourth goals of the season, and Earl Reibel put the Wings ahead three times but the Leafs came back each time to tie. They got their last goal with only 45 seconds left when Dick Duff drove one in during an all-out attack with Chadwick out of the nets.

Gordie Howe helped on Reibel's goal to set a new all-time NHL record. It was the 409th assist of his career, breaking the old record he had shared with Elmer Lach.

Boston made it a sweep of the home-and-home series with the Rangers when Don McKenny got his 11th goal late in the third period.

It was the only goal of the [illegible] on 10 times in his last two games, turn in a great effort to keep the Rangers in the game. He blocked 38 shots, 18 of them in the first period. Simmons didn't have as many tough shots to handle but looked sharp in getting his second blanking.

Cougars Laud Fan Support; Financial Picture Brighter

Victoria hockey fans earned a pat on the back last night when the club executive met to take stock of what has happened so far this season and to discuss plans to improve the club's standing in the western division of the Western Hockey League.

Manager Colin Kilburn reported after the meeting that attendance for the first 10 home games was 27,584 fans. While this was down slightly from last season's 28,387 for the first 10 games, the average of 2,758 was above last season's average of 2,624.

COLIN KILBURN
Progress Report

"In view of our record at home (1-9) we are well satisfied with the support we have been getting," Kilburn said. "The fans have shown us that they want hockey and we want to thank them for their support."

Financially, the Cougars have been holding their own. Average gate for the first 10 home games this season, after taxes, has been $3,302.67. That compares favorably with last season's average of $3,223.33, particularly with the increase in children's attendance and the change in seating plans which put more seats in the lower price category.

It will be remembered, of course, that the Cougars lost about $30,000 on their operations last season. However, this was because the club operation cost almost $150,00. The budget for this season is $115,000. The net profit this season for the months of September and October was $1,180.21.

Although it's an amount that can be more than wiped out with one bad crowd," Kilburn termed the outlook as "bright."

"If the fans continue to support us the way they have we should be able to show a profit," he said. "However, I feel certain that we will get much better support if we start winning our share of games. The only bad thing about our operation so far this season is our won-lost record."

Hopes that the won-lost record will soon look much better are not by any means dim as far as club officials are concerned. Kilburn and coach Pat Egan both feel that Stan Baliuk, the young forward who arrived Wednesday, will help and it appears reasonably certain that the club will come up with a useful defenceman within the next 24 hours.

Kilburn couldn't release the name of the player in question last night but said that he had every hope that the deal would be completed some time today.

Meanwhile, the Cougars are intending to extend Vancouver Canucks' losing streak to six games during the next 36 hours. They meet the former league leaders at Vancouver tonight and at Memorial Arena tomorrow night.

Egan announced line-up changes last night which have changed the make-up of two forward lines and moved Nels Bulloch back on defence.

Bulloch will partner Colin Kilburn behind the blue line while Egan will continue to play alongside Carl Kaiser.

Baliuk will play left wing on a new line with Ed Dorohoy at centre and Blinky Boyce at right wing. Gordie Wilson will be the middle man for Larry Leach and Doug Macauley, while Gordie Haworth will have Frank Milne and Doug Kilburn as flankers. Warren Back will be the utility man.

B.C. Rugby Final Set for Victoria

Victoria High School and Oak Bay High senior rugby teams, which open the annual Howard Russell Cup city high school championship series this afternoon at Carnarvon Park, have a new goal to attain in addition to the city title.

Starting this season, the B.C. Rugby Union has decided to renew the B.C. high school championship final between the Victoria winner and the championship team of Vancouver.

Lord Byng High School, which has already clinched the Vancouver city title, will come to Victoria at the expense of the BCRU on Saturday, Dec. 7, for the sudden-death provincial playoff against either Vic High or the Bays.

Second game of the best-of-three city series will be played Monday at Victoria High with the third game, if necessary, set Wednesday at Carnarvon Park. All games start at 3.30 p.m.

Customers at $100 Window Smarter Than Small Bettors

FAN FARE By Walt Ditzen

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP) — Clothes do not necessarily make the man, and if you frequent the $100 window at the race track chances are you are smarter than the guy who bets a deuce.

These are among the observations of Samuel Carl Coakley, and he should know. Because Coakley, a gent addicted to double-breasted suits which give him the air of a bank president, has been manning the $100 window at Pimlico race course for 15 years.

Coakley's observations on sartorial substance and the superior sagacity of a gent who bets a C-note have solid foundation.

"One of my patrons is what you might call rather poorly dressed," Coakley observes. "But I cannot say that this is significant because there was one instance where this fellow carried $10,000 worth of winning tickets around in his side coat pocket for a week because he was so busy doping the next race he never got around to cashing them."

About the theory that $100 bettors are smarter folks, Coakley says out and out that "they must be just a bit smarter than the average player."

His feeling is that they must be in the mere fact that they are financially able to stroll up to the $100 window, and it's a supposition which is difficult to contradict.

"Usually, your $100 bettor is a good student of form and has figured a race well before betting," he says. "On the other hand, those who wager smaller amounts are likely to be hunch players, those who follow certain jockeys, like names of horses or merely go for the price in an effort to get rich quick."

There is, he'll admit, a closer communication of spirit between the custodian of the gilt-edged $100 window and the more plushy customers than those who inhabit the two-buck arcade.

"Once a man bet $25,000 on a horse with me," Coakley recalls. "The horse ran out of the money. The bettor dropped back to Coakley's window and told him consolingly: 'Don't feel badly. I'll be all right.'"

Personally, I find it rather mystifying as to why Coakley should have felt bad, or why the guy should have thought he would. I'd have been out buying a straight razor. But Coakley gives them the feeling of being interested.

He also recalls a little old lady, wearing a shawl and looking something like Whistler's mother without a rocking chair, who plunked down $7,500 to show on Native Dancer in 1953. She got back $8,261.

"I was very happy and relieved for her," he says.

Which shows, in a way, anyhow, that race tracks do have hearts after all.

Grey Cup Game On Radio, TV

Complete plans for radio and television coverage of Saturday's Grey Cup game between Winnipeg and Hamilton have been announced.

The Grey Cup preview will start at 9 a.m. and the play-by-play account of the annual grid classic will begin at 9.30.

Victorians can watch both the preview and the game on channels 2 and 6, while radio stations [illegible] will broadcast the event.

On Sunday, the Grey Cup parade will be televised on film on channels 2 and 6 starting at 11.30 a.m. One hour later the game will be repeated on the same two channels.

Touring Reds Trim Sudbury For First Canadian Victory

SUDBURY (CP) — Moscow Selects Thursday night won the first game of their seven-game Canadian tour—a 7-4 victory over Sudbury Wolves before a capacity crowd of 6,666.

The Selects, displaying superior speed and passing ability, held a wide margin on game play and with surer work around the goal could have sent the score higher.

The two teams played 1-1 hockey through the first period but the Russians raised the count to 4-2 in the second and in the third scored three times before Wolves' two-goal rally.

The Russians lost to Whitby Dunlops 7-2 in their tour opener last Friday in Toronto. Sunday they tied Windsor Bulldogs 5-5 and Tuesday they lost 4-2 to Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen.

Three of Sudbury's goals were scored by John Bailey, one of five players lent to Wolves by Soo Greyhounds in a move to strengthen the team which is at the bottom of the OHA-NOHA Senior A league. The fourth was scored by Wolves' Jimmy Logan.

Two of the Russian goals were scored while John Lumley, another Greyhound player, was serving the tour's first major penalty, for cross-checking. Lumley was loudly booed by the crowd.

The Russians have added an eighth game to their tour, agreeing to meet North Bay Trappers tonight en route to Montreal, where they take on Ottawa junior Canadiens Sunday afternoon.

Greeting Red Style

SUDBURY (CP)—The Sudbury Star greeted the touring Moscow Selects hockey team Thursday with a front-page salute in Russian on the team's arrival.

"Sudbury, the best hockey city in Canada, welcomes the champions of the Soviet Union," the story was headed in Russian. A translation for English-speaking readers was provided at the end of the story.

The Selects played Sudbury Wolves last night.

Ladies Elect Golf Captain

Mrs. H. G. MacKenzie was elected ladies' captain of Royal Colwood Golf and Country Club at the election-of-officers meeting Wednesday.

Oarsmen Renew Feud With Bays Saturday

Victoria's rugby season, which has been limited to exhibition games so far this season, will officially open Saturday afternoon when two first division clubs renew a strong rivalry at Macdonald Park.

James Bay Athletic Association and Oak Bay Wanderers, two clubs which have carried on a rugby feud in Victoria for a number of years, will tangle in the first game of the first-division schedule on the upper pitch.

The newly-formed JBAA second club will make its first start against Victoria College in an exhibition match at Macdonald Park's lower pitch. Both matches start at 2.30 p.m.

Oak Bay's second division club will travel to the mainland Saturday for an exhibition match against a Vancouver team.

Uplands Golf

Mrs. B. Peden won the "A" division of a par competition at Uplands Golf Club this week by finishing four down to regulation figures. Mrs. R. L. Poyntz was the "B" division winner 2 up, while Mrs. G. M. Coxworth was runner-up, all square.

LONDON (Reuters) — Liverpool increased its lead in the second division of the English Soccer League with a 2-0 victory at home against Rotherham Wednesday night.

Winnipeg Injuries Improved; Odds on Tiger-Cats Lengthen

TORONTO—Coach Bud Grant brought his Winnipeg Blue Bombers into Toronto yesterday and insisted honest-to-goodness he has no bag of tricks to dip into for Saturday's Grey Cup game against Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

"We have got to go with what we won with in the West," the 30-year-old rookie coach said. "We have been working out with our regular game."

Grant indicated that he thought the Bombers running game would be best against the Ti-Cats anyway, and wasn't much concerned over speculation that the Bombers had passed the peak of desire and wouldn't be "up" as they were against Edmonton Eskimos.

The Bombers' much-discussed injury situation was looking a shade brighter to Grant when the Bombers arrived here.

DETERMINED TO PLAY

Charlie Shepard, who has had the fluid drained off his injured knee, is determined that he will play tomorrow. Grant figures that Shepard will be able to see action, if only to handle the kicking chores.

Dennis "The Menace" Mendyk was wearing a cast on his broken wrist but Grant said his halfback should be able to play. End Frank Gillam, recovering from a shoulder separation, was moving well in workouts. Halfback Leo Lewis is the big question mark now, but he has a special harness over his injured ribs and will undoubtedly see some action.

The Bombers arrived with the betting odds against them lengthening. On the point basis, the Ti-Cats rule as favorites by seven points. Hamilton backers had to give 2-1 odds yesterday.

THREAT OF RAIN

Weather prospects for the game are also improving slightly. Heavy rain is forecast between midnight tonight and the 1 p.m. kickoff Saturday, but Toronto weatherman Fred Turnbull says there is only one chance in four of rain during the game.

At Hamilton the Ti-Cats worked out quietly and coach Jim Trimble predicted a wide-open game in which "the Bombers had better score 31 points if they want to beat us."

It is taken for granted that Trimble is counting heavily on his solid, hard-charging line and big backfielders, particularly Gerry McDougall and Cookie Gilchrist, the combination that ran wild against Montreal Alouettes last weekend.

Trimble, who was caught without scouting reports on the Bombers after their surprise victory over Edmonton Eskimos, has been offered a report on the Bombers by Doug "Peahead" Walker, coach of the Als, who had the team scouted in anticipation of a win.

Of course, predictions are a dime a dozen in Toronto. Coach Pop Ivy of the Eskimos, a man who should know all about the Bombers, picks Grant's team to win, with a couple of ifs.

"I have to hedge. I think Winnipeg should win by a comfortable margin in a game that's going to be wide open. But Bud will have to get them in the same mental state they were in against us, and that will be tough. The other big if is their injuries."

"All their backs can run. They are all strong and Kenny Ploen, James and Lewis are especially hard to bring down. I think Hamilton will have trouble with Winnipeg's running. I know Hamilton has a good defence, but these Bombers can go."

Oil Shares Big Gainers At Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—The stock market, without influence from Wall Street, recorded a strong [illegible] gain although trading was the lightest in five years.

Pipelines and refining oils went ahead smartly and near the close a number of other issues, especially western oils, followed with moderate gains.

Volume was 1,117,000 shares, lightest since Dec 26 1952, when 1,103,000 shares were exchanged.

Industrials had the best gains. B-A Oil, Imperial, Canadian Oil, International Pete, McColl and Interprovincial Pipe Line were ahead between one and two points.

Walker's drew moderate interest—mostly American—following the release of the company's annual report which showed record earnings and sales and announced a proposed 3-for-1 split in the firm's stock.

Walker's jumped four points to 79 in the first two hours but settled back to 77½ before the close.

Senior base metals climbed moderately higher with Noranda and Hudson Bay leading with gains of about a point each. Geco added 35 cents at $9 among coppers, while uraniums, golds and junior base metals were easier.

West Naco featured western oils with a 20-cent rise to $1.30 in active trading and Central Del Rio added 15 cents at $7.25. Senior issues were generally ahead fractions.

Noranda Advances

MONTREAL (CP) — The Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges moved upward in light trading. Gains ranged to three points.

The refinery group stood out with Imperial Oil gaining 2⅜ at 44, B-A 2¼ at 38 and Interprovincial Pipeline 1⅛ at 41½. In the base metals Noranda gained 1½ at 38 and Asbestos one point at 31½.

In a strong newsprint group, gains of 1¼ were shown by Powell River at 32 and Consolidated Paper at 31¾. Fraser improved a point at 22. In a mixed utility group Gatineau Power, selling ex-dividend, rose a point to 29. Calgary Power lost ½ at 65.

Comparatively few movements were shown in the mines and oils section. Home Oil B improved a point at 16½ and Central Del Rio added 25 cents at 7.20. Hollinger gained ⅛ at 22 but Consolidated Denison lost ⅛ at 11⅝.

Pipeline Rallies

VANCOUVER — Industrials continued to be firm with Trans Mountain a feature at $67½. Inland Gas advanced to $8 and Powell River to $31½. Western Plywood was firm at $10½.

Oils met some demand with Home B at $16 and United at $2.68 both strongly ahead. Fort St. John also advanced 15 cents to 4.40. Also higher were Charter, Futurity, Pacific Pete and Peace River Petroleum.

Bralorne at 4.10 was the only strong feature in a dull mining section.

London Stock Prices

LONDON (Reuters) — The strong overnight rally on Wall Street was reflected here with a continuation of the better trend which developed late Wednesday. However, business was restricted.

Gilt-edged securities were idle and tended easier. Industrials were generally firm. Steels were in demand in advance of dividends and engineering shares improved. Textiles, leading stores and radios were also better.

Canadian oil shares were down on the uncertain outlook for oil in Canada. Hudson's Bay was lower on balance.

Grain Prices

WINNIPEG (CP)—Moderate activity appeared in flax but other dealings were limited and routine.

Flax had export and commission house buying with offerings in the form of American selling and hedges. Prices were fairly steady.

Oats and barley had routine support and lacked American interest because of the thanksgiving holiday in the United States. A few shipping orders appeared and prices moved narrowly.

Rye prices were firm under light offerings and local support.

Overnight loadings of Canadian wheat included: The United Kingdom 715,000 bushels, Japan 845,000, West Germany 550,000, Russia 740,000, Switzerland 450,000, Belgium 200,000, The Netherlands 70,000, Norway 50,000.

Quick Sellout For New Bonds

OTTAWA (CP)—The government's $650,000,000 bond issue was oversubscribed in 30 minutes today, Finance Minister Fleming informed the Commons.

He said $250,000,000 of three-per-cent bonds due Oct 1, 1959, were alloted against cash subscriptions and applications were accepted converting $400,000,000 of bonds scheduled to mature next May 1 into new three-per cent, three-year bonds due Dec 15, 1960.

Cash proceeds of the issue will be applied by the government to redemption of $250,000,000 2¾-per-cent bonds maturing Dec 15, 1957.

Mr. Fleming added: "This very gratifying response reflects the confidence of the investing public in the strength and stability of the Canadian economy." He said money, credit and interest are "easing substantially."

Tar Sands Line Given Approval

EDMONTON (CP)—Deputy Mines Minister H. Somerville said Thursday Bituminous Oil Pipe Line Co. of Calgary has been granted a permit to build a 250-mile pipeline from McMurray oil sands to refineries in Edmonton.

Bituminous is a subsidiary of Royalite Oil which is spending $50,000,000 on a project to extract oil from the sands. Company officials said the pipeline will not be built for some time.

Best Year Coming, Says President

GM Rosily Optimistic

By HARRY YOUNG

Colonist Business Editor

Let us not forget that automobile manufacturers are notoriously optimistic at this time of the year, when they are plugging their new crop of models.

Bearing that in mind, however, it is interesting to note that E. H. Walker, president of General Motors of Canada, says the sales outlook for his firm in 1958 was never better.

G.M. expects to sell more cars than ever in Canada next year. Reasons: Personal savings in the banks are over $6,000,000,000, car dealers have no inventory problems and stocks of used cars are low as well.

Mr. Walker considers that more important than the vagaries of the stock market and talks of recession.

G.M. is not deflation conscious. Mr. Walker points out his firm has turned out a new series of cars at the "luxury end" of its three Canadian-made lines.

Many other market experts think that it will be 1960 before Canada comes through to another big marketing year, but Mr. Walker is not the only optimist.

Canadian Westinghouse also expects a big year in 1958 and its president, G. L. Wilcox says that at present its 1957 sales are running 12-15 per cent ahead of 1956, and that the profit margin is improved as well.

TREASURY PAYS MORE

The move towards cheaper money met with a slight setback yesterday, when the Canadian government had to pay slightly more for its treasury bill borrowings than it had done a week ago.

As a result the Bank of Canada rediscount rate, which hinges weekly on the average treasury bill rate advanced .06 per cent to 3.83 per cent.

At this level, however, the rediscount rate is .50 per cent lower than it was last August and .22 per cent below the rate on Nov. 7.

The drop since August is right in line with the U.S. Federal Reserve rate, which is calculated on a different method, which has also dropped by .50 per cent in a similar period.

Market experts consider that despite the advance yesterday, money rates will continue to drop during the next few months.

VICTORIA SELLS BONDS

Some idea of the strengthening of the bond market on a government, municipal and corporation level is given by the terms of new issues.

Yesterday the City of Winnipeg sold $3,500,000 20-year serial bonds with 5 per cent coupon rate at $100.18. They will be offered to yield 4.90 per cent. Three months ago bonds of this nature could not have been sold at less than 5½ per cent yield.

Also benefiting from the new cheaper money policy yesterday was the City of Victoria. It sold $116,000 15-year local improvement serials with a 5 per cent coupon at a price to the city of 98.32. A. E. Ames and Co. headed the syndicate with the highest bid.

QUARTER SAVED

Canadian Utilities Ltd. which on Nov. 15 withdrew its offer to sell $6,000,000 6 per cent con[illegible] because it felt it could get a better market later is now back again on the market.

This time it has reduced its coupon rate by .25 per cent to 5¾ per cent. Otherwise the terms are unchanged.

If I Were Reeve of Saanich I'd Amalgamate!

Colonist Poll Finds

By DAVID BROWN

What would you do if you were reeve of Saanich? The Daily Colonist asked a representative group of citizens of the municipality yesterday.

"If I were reeve," most said, "I would get going immediately on this amalgamation business."

This is a much stronger line than that taken by Reeve Arthur Ash who is campaigning for a thorough investigation of amalgamation. His opponent for the reeveship, Coun. Eugene Diespecker, is militantly opposed to both amalgamation and a study of the controversy, campaigning on a "pride in Saanich" platform.

Residents imagining themselves as candidates gave reasons ranging from lower taxes to faster installation of services as amalgamation benefits.

For example.

WANT SPEED-UP

"If I were reeve," said Pat Sheppard, "I would be all for amalgamation. I think it's for a better Greater Victoria."

Mr. Sheppard, owner of the Mount View Pharmacy, 3890 Carey Road, saw a merger with the city as a move that would speed up the sewer program and encourage more businesses to move into Saanich.

"It's pretty nice out here in Saanich," said Mrs. Kathleen Bennett, "but we could use a few more trees along the boulevards as they have in the city."

CITES GARBAGE

Amalgamation would be a good idea to Mrs Bennett who said she is a former city resident now living at 3681 Tillicum.

"Lots of things would be nicer if this area was in the city," she said. "Right now our garbage is collected only every two weeks."

If she had the chance to sit in the reeve's chair she would also make sure more sidewalks were built along Saanich streets where school children have to walk.

"I know on Tillicum the children have to walk right on the road. With all the traffic, that's dangerous."

Said Charles Will, a food store proprietor who lives at 3874 Rowland.

BUGGED BY DIVISION

"If there's one thing that bugs me it's the idea of four municipalities in such a small area. With amalgamation I know that sidewalks and other services would come out to us much faster than at the present time."

Speaking as a businessman, he said that if he were reeve he would seek uniform store closing hours with all of the other municipalities.

"It's just another foolish thing that has come about because there is not amalgamation. Saanich closes one day, the city another, and Oak Bay another."

W. A. Courchene, proprietor of Royal Oak General Store, located within earshot of Saanich's makeshift council chamber at Royal Oak said he hasn't had time in the two months since arriving here from Humboldt, Sask., to form an opinion.

He said if he were reeve that he would pave the street closer to his door.

IT'S ONLY RAIN

"Then again, it's only rain," he said. "In Humboldt they would have quite a bit of snow by now. I guess it's pretty nice here."

Out in rural Saanich near Elk Lake, Mrs. Jack Wootten thought amalgamation of urban Saanich with Victoria is "probably a good idea."

But she is faced with the dilemma of taking unkindly to losing her end of the municipality to Central Saanich.

"I live right on the border at 6160 Pat Bay Highway," said Mrs. Wootten from behind the counter at Baird's Grocery. "I think the taxes are too high but I still wouldn't want to be in Central Saanich."

Another rural resident could find nothing repugnant about being included in Central Saanich.

Retired game warden Joseph W. Jones, who lives on the Pat Bay Highway just north of Royal Oak, said:

"I know what I would do right away if I were reeve. Amalgamation, that's right. Get rid of all the extras. My taxes are too high in Saanich. Do you know that 15 per cent of my income goes for taxes.

"Central Saanich? That's right, I would be all in favor of this property being in Central Saanich. Taxes would be lower. Trouble with some of them on council is that they've been in so long they don't seem to realize what the people want."

A service station operator said he couldn't care one way or the other about amalgamation.

"One's as bad as the other," said Paul Love of B & J Auto Service at the corner of Doug-toward both Saanich and Victoria.

"If they can get together, all right. But it depends on how they run the thing."

A resident of 287 Goward, Mr Love said if he were reeve he would see that the road was fixed up. "Right now its gravel and washboardy. They put a grader out there once a year whether it needs it or not."

He would, as reeve, clamp down on the number of service station outlets in the municipality.

"There's getting to be more service stations out here than there are cars."

UBC Receives $1,401,000

VANCOUVER (CP) — Advance gifts to the UBC development fund drive total $1,401,000, so far, says general chairman Paul E. Cooper.

The public appeal for a minimum of $5,000,000 will start in January. The provincial government has promised to match public contributions up to $7,500,000.

Performs
in a BOLD new way

The Magnificent
1958 Meteor
V-8 or 6

The Magnificent 1958 Meteor Introduces a Bold New Concept in Performance—a Bold New Step in Economy.

Not for 25 years has there been a V-8 so entirely new. Meteor's all-new Tempest V-8's deliver up to 303 hp., yet are so smooth a coin will balance on the front fender while the engine is running. Tempest V-8's conquer the steepest hills with hardly a deep breath—and thanks to new Precision Fuel Induction, fuel-air mixture zooms through 8 expressways directly to the cylinder head—saves gas—gives overdrive economy. Meteor's Thrifty-Six is new and wonderful, too—now packing 145 eager horses.

Matching new Meteor engines in performance is Meteor's triple line-up of transmissions, including the all-new Multi-Drive Merc-O-Matic. Here is the first automatic drive where you can select from three forward ranges. Power and torque is tailored to every driving condition. Standard Merc-O-Matic and manual shifting also available.

This is the bold new performance Meteor brings to the low price field. Want to try it? Just see your Meteor dealer tomorrow and drive the new Meteor—new, in a bold new way.

Soak an ordinary tissue and a Scottie with equal amounts of one of the new liquid cleansing creams.

Ordinary cream-soaked tissue breaks. A tissue without the wet-strength of Scotties breaks when you drop just one earring into it.

Cream-soaked Scottie holds and holds! Drop earring, bracelet, pin, necklace into cream-soaked Scottie—and the Scottie doesn't break.

REMINGTON ROLLECTRIC

shaves your hidden beard!

Here's the first really new shaving development since electric shaving first began!

The Remington Rollectric reaches the Hidden Beard other shaving methods miss. (See the pictures at right—they show how the Rollectric does a shaving job that's never been done before.)

The Rollectric's exclusive Roller Comb action also protects tender facial skin, gives a smooth, all-comfort shave every time! The Rollectric's fast, too, because it's the world's most powerful electric shaver. Yes, the new Remington Rollectric makes all other shaving methods obsolete!

See the Rollectric, complete in a handsome travel case . . . at your dealer's today!

Here's your hidden beard. Whiskers grow in tiny valleys. Ordinary shavers skim the tops of these valleys—shave only the tops of whiskers. Soon whisker bases grow out and Hidden Beard can be seen and felt.

Here's how Remington gets it. Roller Combs press the valleys down—pop up whisker bases into man-sized shaving head. Whiskers are sheared off at base—closely, comfortably, quickly.

$40,000,000 Ring

Dope King Hangs Himself in Cell

ZURICH, Switzerland (UP)—The Zurich district attorney's office yesterday announced the suicide of a member of an international narcotics ring believed to have smuggled $40,000,000 worth of heroin to America.

The Swiss authorities believe the heroin was smuggled into Canada in bulk and carried over the border to the United States in smaller packages.

District Attorney Dr Paul Grob said: "Otto Hermann was found dead in his prison cell more than a week ago. He had committed suicide by hanging himself from a noose made out of a sheet."

"I believe," Dr. Grob added, "he committed suicide because he had not told all and was afraid I would find it out."

Hermann, two other Swiss identified as Hans Schlegel and "Mr. K" an Italian national, Dr Enzi Berti and a Turkish national, Mehmed Hattatoglou, were arrested in Zurich on July 23.

They were identified as the Swiss "couriers" who transported the heroin base material from Turkey to Italy, "the co-owner of the Milan laboratory" and "the Turkish supplier of the heroin base material."

Standard Code Set for NHA

OTTAWA (CP)—Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation is adopting housing standards of the National Research Council as the building requirements for houses financed under the National Housing Act.

The Crown agencies jointly announced today that CMHC will adopt the NRC standards effective Jan. 1, 1958.

Result of the decision, the statement said, will be that Canada will have only one set of official minimum housing standards, based on the CMHC standards incorporating NRC's national building code. It will mean only minor changes in CMHC's present standards.

The code has been adopted by some 200 Canadian municipalities as their building regulations.

Vast Sockeye Run Predicted

Millions of Fish

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fisheries research officials have predicted there may be the biggest sockeye salmon run in modern history on the Fraser River next year, British Columbia's centennial year.

Lloyd Royal, director of the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission, said in an interview Wednesday it is impossible to "tell how big a salmon run is going to be until the fish are in the can."

"But," he added, "I feel sure the run next year will be at least equal to the one in 1954, when there were 12,000,000 sockeye."

Next year will be one of the cycle years of the Adams River in the Okanagan, the greatest spawning stream on the Fraser system.

Biologists [illegible] accurate yardstick for measuring the sockeye run the year before it arrives is to measure the size of the "jack" run. Jack sockeye are male fish which return to the salmon stream a year early for a still unknown reason.

The jack run is usually a certain percentage of the real spawning run which comes a year later. In 1953, the year preceding the last great run, there were 235,000 jacks on the spawning grounds.

This year there are 295,000 jacks. Fisheries scientists said that indicates a 1958 run "at least as big" as the one in 1954.

Sunday Sale: Wrong Act For Charge?

Trial of Henry Eng, proprietor of the Outdoor Market, 3475 Quadra, on a charge of failing to close his store on a Sunday, opened in Saanich police court yesterday. After testimony of witnesses and argument by counsel, the case was remanded to next Thursday for judgment.

Court was told that four articles a can of corn, one of soup, another of mushroom sauce, and a steak—were purchased in the store Sunday, Sept 15.

Defence counsel J. E. Gatehouse said he based his argument on two grounds. In the first place, the charge was laid under the Municipal Act, of 1957 when, he maintained it should have been laid under the Lord's Day Act.

CHARGE QUERIED

In the second place the charge did not disclose the actual offence. If certain things were sold that should not have been sold, then that was how the accused should be charged, and not for failing to close.

Kenneth Murphy, prosecutor, submitted the charge was properly laid.

The act, he said, laid out definite prohibitions concerning days of sale: Sundays and statutory holidays as itemized.

EXEMPTIONS LISTED

There were exemptions — stands within shops for sale of fresh fruit or vegetables, soft drinks, dairy products, bakery products, cut flowers, florist products and confectionery — but these were exemptions of trades and businesses, not of shops.

Magistrate Henry Hall took the matter for study for one week. Other charges against the accused, and against a half-dozen other Saanich merchants, will be dealt with then.

William Langford, 3309 Cedar Hill gave a tacit admission of guilt on a charge of operating without a trades licence, when he left with he court a cheque to cover a fine of $25 and the licence fee of $10.

Darrell Hughes, RCN, pleaded guilty to theft of an alarm clock and a wallet, valued at less than $50, and was remanded to Friday in order to obtain character evidence.

Const. James Baxter said he saw the accused walking from one parked car to another on Broad near View at about 2 a.m. yesterday. He found the alarm clock and wallet in accused's possession. Hughes, he said, had been drinking but was not intoxicated.

The constable said both articles were reported missing from a car belonging to Roy Farquharson, 3242 Douglas.

William P. Mattison, 2717 Belmont, tried last week on a charge of impaired driving, was found guilty yesterday in Saanich court. He was fined $250, and restricted to driving for business only for one year.

Similar restrictions were placed on two men in city court, previously fined like amounts on the same charge. They were Robert Roe, 154 Government, and John A. Finlan, 1315 Belmont.

Race Facts 'Cost' $100

Fines of $50 each were paid by two men for bookmaking offences in city police court yesterday.

Henry Brawn, 2180 Fair, admitted to providing information intended for use in connection with bookmaking and betting on horse races, and Daniel Wilson, 251 Superior, admitted having control of property relating to an illegal transaction.

Alberta Out $48,360 On $20 Oil Payments

EDMONTON (CP) — The Alberta government may have lost as much as $48,360 to persons making false claims for $20 oil and gas royalty dividends.

The provincial auditor's department [illegible] applications involving 2,118 separate dividend payments, have been turned over to the attorney general's department for investigation.

Assistant provincial auditor D. B. Barr said any application showing an irregularity was put aside for investigation. All might not have been illegal, he said.

The Edmonton Journal says a half-dozen persons are believed to have received 20 or more dividends each and one man using the same name on every certificate is reported to have obtained more than 60.

The newspaper says there have been 76 convictions and about 40 persons are serving jail terms for dividend infractions.

Deputy Attorney-General H. J. Wilson said he could not confirm the report.

To date the government has paid 501,000 dividends, using $10,000,000 of the $11,000,000 fund set aside at the last legis[illegible] Alberta citizens a third of oil and gas royalties paid to the province.

To qualify for the dividend a person must be a Canadian citizen or British subject over 21 and with 10 years' residence in Alberta including two years immediately prior to application.

Troops Still Needed In East, Says Burns

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — The Canadian commander of the United Nations Emergency Force in the Middle East reiterated Thursday that the force will be needed there pending "prospect of some permanent settlement."

Meanwhile Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns added the morale of the force is "perfectly satisfactory" despite reports of restlessness among the soldiers from nine countries who have kept the peace in the Middle East for almost a year.

Toronto Judge Rules:

$50 Penalty Enough In Baby-Killing Case

TORONTO (BUP)—Judge J. L. MacDonell has ruled that a $50 fine was a sufficient penalty for a Toronto motorist whose sports car shot through a red light and killed a baby in a carriage last summer.

The judge rejected a request by the attorney-general's department for a stiffer penalty for William Zaharuk, 27

The motorist was convicted of careless driving in Toronto magistrate court and fined $50 or seven days

Crown counsel Bowman Galbraith argued that the sentence was inadequate but the judge said Zaharuk was guilty only of passing through a red light which he did not see and that the child's death was an unfortunate outcome of the accident which Zaharuk could not have avoided.

Police testimony said Zaharuk's car collided with a dump truck, crushed the baby carriage which contained two-months-old Joseph Sceberras, and seriously injured the infant's 17-year-old aunt who was pushing the carriage.

Card Charge 'False' MP Demands Apology

OTTAWA (BUP) — A member of Parliament yesterday demanded an apology from a Montreal newspaper for publishing and editorial accusing MPs of sending their constituents Christmas cards which had been bought with the taxpayers money

H J Robichaud said "The Gazette" should apologize to Parliament and to the people of Canada for such "an irresponsible and untrue statement."

The article -entitled "Christmas cards and all that"— said thousands of Canadians would not be receiving Christmas cards from the MPs this year as the taxpayer is no longer buying them

"The unpleasant thing about these pleasant greetings is that you had to pay to be greeted," the article said. "You never actually saw the bill, it was still charged to your account in the taxation you paid

"This year there will be no Christmas cards for members of Parliament, provided by the courtesy of those to whom they were to be sent The estimated saving is $50,000."

"That $50,000 saving will be quite a compensation for not being greeted with your own money."

"This editorial leaves the impression that members were in the past supplied with free cards. This is absolutely false," said Robichaud.

Poachers Slaughter Resting Animals

Tommygun-Armed Gangs Mow Down Scotch Deer

LONDON (AP) — Poaching gangs armed with tommyguns are sweeping by night on game preserves in the Scottish Highlands and mowing down hundreds of red deer an official

A spokesman said "there has been a public outcry over the Russians sending a dog into space aboard Sputnik II. The poaching gangs employ methods at least as cruel"

This 1957 version of the ancient art of poaching was outlined by the Nature Conservancy, a government-financed body which looks after nature reserves throughout Britain. The report demanded new laws to end the "indiscriminate and cruel slaughter" of Scotland's red deer

100,000 DEER

An estimated 100,000 red deer roam the hills in special reserves set up to protect them from hunters. Their deadliest enemy these days, the report said, are poaching gangs armed with automatic weapons who drive into the reserves by night and open up on the resting animals.

The leader of one gang boasted he and his men could kill 500 deer in a single season and ship them out for sale as venison, the report said. It added:

NOT AN OFFENSE

"Scotland has the unhappy distinction of being perhaps the only civilized country in which the poaching of deer at night is not in itself an offence"

It urged legislation to beat the poachers and end "this national scandal."

Buildings May Relax Coffee Rule

Ban 'Breaks' Cafeteria

Provincial government may relax its coffee break restrictions on civil servants.

The restrictions were imposed some months ago when it was found that government employees were taking too long over their cups of coffee at the Douglas Building cafeteria in mid-morning and mid-afternoon.

Employees were forbidden to patronize the cafeteria except between the hours of noon and 1.10 p.m.

MAY HAVE TO CLOSE

The move resulted in such a fall-off of cafeteria revenues that there is now a very definite danger the cafeteria will have to close.

A provincial cabinet committee is studying the question and will reach a decision shortly.

Meanwhile, a meeting is planned in the next week or so between civil servants' representatives and Attorney-General Robert Bonner in an attempt to settle differences over collective bargaining rights for government workers.

GULF STILL WIDE

The question nearly resulted in strike action last July.

It was learned there is still a wide gulf separating the two parties and Chief Justice Gordon Sloan—who was named as a one-man board of reference to inquire into the dispute—has written Attorney-General Bonner to arrange a date for a meeting with the association.

Famed Cellist Plays Tonight For Cowichan

DUNCAN—With world-famed cellist Zara Nelsova as soloist, Victoria Symphony Orchestra will make its second appearance of the season here tonight.

Concert will begin in Cowichan High School at 8.15. Miss Nelsova will play Bloch's "Schelomo" and Haydn's only cello concerto, substituting the latter for the previously-scheduled Boccherini concerto.

Hans Gruber will lead the orchestra in music of Handel and Brahms, and the program will be repeated in the Royal Theatre in Victoria Sunday afternoon and Monday evening.

DUNCAN—A long-time member of the school board, and a former chairman, George E. Bonner of Cobble Hill, was honored Wednesday when Minister of Education Leslie Peterson officially christened the new secondary school at Mill Bay the George E. Bonner Secondary School.

Mr. Peterson mentioned that the Bonner Secondary School is one of two such institutions in the province to receive the name of a person still living.

TOFINO — Under the title "The West Coaster," a new weekly newspaper made its first appearance here last week.

The editor-publisher is A. S. Wallace, who recently came from Aklavik, N.W.T., to reside at Tofino.

The paper's first issue was 14 mimeographed pages, but a printed paper is promised if its six month trial run is a success.

DUNCAN—Archie Stevenson was elected president of the Cowichan Exhibition for a third term at the annual meeting.

Mrs R. H. M. Shaw will be first vice-president, John Prasloski, second vice-president, and Dr. David D. Lott, third vice-president.

A preliminary financial statement showed that the 1957 fair made a profit of $1,000.

Flying Saucer Crew

COURTENAY — Comox Valley's Flying Saucer crew has arrived safely in Toronto, according to word received by Mrs G. Baal, wife of one of the "space men" accompanying the "saucer."

The four men, Gib Baal, Lloyd White, Pete Lloyd and Harry Mudge, drove to Toronto without a stop, travelling in Mr Baal's station wagon.

The saucer will be in the Grey Cup parade on Saturday. The saucer had been shipped ahead of time.

PORT ALBERNI — A $275 donation was made Wednesday afternoon to the West Coast General Hospital equipment fund.

Alberni Valley Lions Club president Ernie Crego made the presentation to Harvey E. Taylor, hospital administrator, on behalf of his club.

This One's a Killer!

Examining the deadly "Destroying Angel" mushroom, but not getting too close to it, is Lorna Leyland. This specimen of unusual size, which has had half its top knocked off, was brought into the Provincial Museum by a woman from Saseenos. The mushroom can be recognized by its white gills, white collar (just above Lorna's fingers) and its globular roof. No known victim of its lethal poison has survived. Dr. Adam Szczawinski is anxious to reach the woman who gave him the mushroom yesterday.—(Colonist photo by Jim Ryan.)

Mayor Will Slice Point Ellice Cake

A cake topped by a replica of Point Ellice bridge will be cut by Mayor Percy Scurrah at a reception in Victoria West Community Centre, 802 Catherine, following bridge opening ceremonies at 2 p.m. Saturday.

At the bottom of the cake, "Thanks" will be lettered in honor of Mayor Scurrah, who fulfills his election pledge with the bridge, said Charles Banfield, unofficial mayor of Victoria West.

Mr. Banfield will cut the ribbon at the bridge-opening ceremony.

Evening Operation 'Favored'

City council passed a resolution yesterday "favoring" evening operation of stores in the Christmas season.

This intimation to the stores that there was no objection to them breaking the law was as far as council would go after receiving a suggestion from the deputy minister of municipal affairs that councils, by resolution, allow stores to stay open in the evenings between Dec. 16 and Christmas.

TO INTERVENE

Ald Hugh Ramsay asked if a council resolution could override the Municipal Act, which contains no provision for such an exemption.

City Solicitor T. P. O'Grady answered that a council resolution couldn't alter the law laid down by the legislature, but he suggested that the attorney-general might have power to intervene in prosecutions.

UP TO THEM

Ald. J. Donald Smith suggested notifying the merchants of the position "and let them do as they see fit."

Ald. M. H. Mooney agreed with him, because he said, council would be getting itself into a hornet's nest if it tried to exempt the stores.

Council went along with the idea and passed a resolution "in favor of evening operations before Christmas the same as in previous years."

Milk Price Undercut 'Disastrous'

Sale of fresh milk at lower prices in chain stores may prove disastrous to Vancouver Island's dairy industry, according to Charles Walls, secretary-treasurer of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture.

He called upon the provincial government yesterday to impose a minimum consumer price on milk to stop chain stores from selling milk at lower prices.

"A chain store can afford to sell milk at cost but a distributor can't compete because of plant operation and labor costs," he said. "Controlled prices for milk have been found necessary in practically all milk markets in the world."

Agriculture Minister Newton Steacy said recently he would put the matter up to the B.C. Milk Board for consideration.

New Clinic, New Baby Weigh-In

Little Leanne Rutherford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Rutherford, 741 Daffodil, had her first monthly weight check yesterday at new well-baby clinic in Garden City United Church Hall on Carey Road. Saanich health nurse Miss Trudy Cain weighed her in at eight pounds, four ounces. Clinic is open on fourth Thursday of each month from 2 to 3 p.m.—(Colonist photo by Jim Ryan.)

'Either Close at 6 p.m. Or Don't Close at All'

A bylaw requiring gasoline outlets in the city to close at 6 p.m. or remain open a full 24 hours a day was finally passed by city council yesterday, Ald Arthur Dowell alone opposing it in the vote.

But there were hints after the council meeting that the bylaw may soon be tested, presumably by a service station remaining open after 6 p.m. without a 24 hour permit.

Oil companies, a minority of station operators and the Victoria Automobile Club have opposed passage of the bylaw.

MATTER OF PRINCIPLE

Ald. Austin Curtis and Ald. M. H. Mooney recommended to council that the bylaw be passed. Ald Dowell, third member of a special three-man committee that heard representations from the oil distributors and the operators separately and behind closed doors, said he opposed it "purely and simply as a matter of principle."

The bylaw, he said, was no less than regimentation by force.

"Is it fair, is it right, is it justice to pass a law to tell men anxious to make an extra honest dollar to close at 6 or stay open 24 hours?" he demanded.

Ald. Mooney, however, said that he felt sure that if the bylaw were not passed, the people of Victoria would not get the service they had been receiving for seven years.

CLOSING EVENINGS

Since regulation of hours ceased July 1, he said, five 24-hour stations in the city had started closing in the evenings.

Only a small minority of operators opposed control, he said.

Ald. Curtis said he supported the bylaw because the majority of operators wanted it, and because it seemed to him that without regulation there would be a chaotic condition. Operators, he said, would be forced by competition to operate uneconomically, and perhaps some would be forced out of business.

JOHN RICHARDSON

Richardson Rites Today

An inquest into the death of John M. Richardson, 63, 1425 Vancouver, who died following injuries received while longshoring at Cowichan Bay Wednesday, will be held at Hayward's at 10 a.m. today.

He was injured when struck in the back by a load of lumber which knocked him between two railroad cars.

Mr Richardson is survived by his wife, Esther; a daughter, Maureen, and a son, Dennis, at home, a daughter, Mrs Joan Andre, 1421 Vancouver; four sisters and three brothers; also three grandchildren.

'You Can't Force A Ballot'

Municipal councils are under no obligation to hold a referendum, even if petitioned by 10 per cent of the ratepayers, lawyer Kenneth Murphy said yesterday.

An Oak Bay council candidate, Mr Murphy took exception to a press report of a Jaycee letter to councillors that indicated a referendum on amalgamation could be forced by having petitions signed by 10 per cent of the ratepayers in each municipality.

Mr. Murphy quoted from Section 210-B of the Municipal Act.

The council "may by bylaw provide for submitting to the electors at any time any proposed innovation, but no such submission shall be made other than at the time of the annual elections, unless a petition therefor, signed by at least 10 per centum of the electors, has been presented to the council."

"As far as I can see," he said, "the wording reads 'council may' not 'council would have to' as indicated in the press."

Jaycees explained that their letter to councils pointed out only that the councils were "morally obliged" to act in answer to a petition.

'Colonist 500 Fund'

'I Feel Sorry for the Kids'

By JUDY GRAHAM

A small social welfare cheque spread over rent and food for a widow and four children doesn't provide any frills.

All too often right here in Victoria the "frills" mean clothing for the children. And at this time of year it also includes such things as Christmas presents, a Christmas tree and turkey dinner.

It's that way with one of the widows who will benefit from The Daily Colonist "500 Fund" this year.

Several months ago, her husband died. Suddenly she found her shoulders heavy with problems. The greatest—how to pay off her husband's debts—is still unsolved.

"I won't really miss Christmas myself because I have had so many happy ones," she said. "But, I feel sorry for the children. They want to give me presents but they don't seem to realize that I have to give them the money first."

Because she is a practical woman who is trying hard to keep her children looking decent, this mother will use her 500 Fund cheque to buy the youngest children some new clothes.

The widow has lived in Victoria only a few months and the 500 Fund is new to her.

"It's a wonderful idea," she said. "Anyone who has had to live on a fixed amount of money would truly welcome something extra at Christmas.

"I'm happy to hear we'll be one of the families to benefit from the fund," she said.

The fund, now in its second year, will provide a little extra spending money at Christmas for the 500 most needy families in Victoria.

The amount sent to these families depends on the generosity of Colonist readers.

See fund total on Page 9).

Banfield Again

Charles F Banfield was re-elected president of the Victoria West Community Association this week. Other officers elected for the coming year are William Edgington, vice-president; Mrs Edna Parker, secretary; and Douglas Hobbs, treasurer.

Art Business as Usual

Exhibitions and all other activities of the Greater Victoria Art Gallery will continue as usual during construction of the new $53,923 permanent wing, gallery officials said yesterday.

The work, expected to be started next week by local contractor M. P. Paine, will entail blocking off the front door for several months. A parking area will be created on the north side of the gallery with a driveway leading to Wilspencer Place. The north side door will be used as a temporary enterance.

Indian Seed . . .

May Have Answer To Greying Hair

CHICAGO (WNS)—An age-old beauty secret of India, which may be the answer to why the most glamorous women of that part of the world keep their dark hair and resist greying, is to be tested here at the Department of Clinical Science of the University of Illinois Medical School.

Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, world renowned physiologist and medical and health advisor to Prime Minister Nehru and the Indian government, has returned like a modern medical Marco Polo with a series of native products to be tested in American laboratories.

He is head of the department and professor of physiology at the university.

Mystery hangs heavy over the native medicines of India, because such drugs as rauwolfia, one of the key tranquilizing drugs now widely used throughout the United States, was a folk medicine there for centuries before it was known in Western nations.

Dr. Ivy maintains that "herbs and plants which through the years have proved to have medicinal value should be investigated." He points out that such investigations gave us digitalis and quinine.

The anti-grey hair substance comes from a seed which yields a natural detergent, says Dr. Ivy. It has been used for centuries by women in the Banglora-Madras district for washing their hair, and they are famous throughout the East for the beauty of their tresses—even at the age of 60 to 65 they do not turn grey.

Dr. Ivy does not think it is strange for a hair-dressing to come from such a source, pointing out that henna, used as a hair dye for many centuries, comes from a small shrub found in India, Persia, the Levant and along the African coasts of the Mediterranean. Cleopatra pioneered its beauty use.

However, the action of the new drug being investigated is not that of a dye, because it does nothing to restore hair already grey and exerts its mysterious effect only as a preventive. He expects that it will take several years to test fully its supposed preventive qualities.

Miss E. Bruce Tells About World Trip

A delightful evening was spent recently when Miss Nell Jones entertained the members of the Soroptimist Club and their friends at her home on Blackwood Avenue.

During the evening Miss Ethel Bruce, honorary member, gave an interesting talk on the highlights of her recent world's trip. During the last four years Miss Bruce has travelled over 110,000 miles — mostly by air and has had many interesting and amusing experiences.

On behalf of all present Miss Hilda Hesson thanked Miss Bruce for her most informative and entertaining talk.

Later in the evening dainty refreshments were served from a prettily appointed table centred with autumn colored chrysanthemums. Mrs. J. U. Kimmitt and Miss E. R. Walker, social conveners, were in charge of refreshments.

Bazaar Dec. 4

St. Mark's WA and Guild will sponsor a Christmas bazaar and tea on Wednesday, Dec. 4 in the parish hall. There will be home cooking, delicatessen, superfluity, apron and fancy work stalls.

There will also be a Christmas tree and a stall for children. Miss G. L. Kensington, the new secretary for social service with the Diocesan board will open the affair.

Card Party Aids Senior Citizens

A successful card party was held by the Lake Hill Women's Institute recently in the Quadra Street Hall.

A goodly sum was realized and was turned over to the senior citizens' housing project.

Marion E. Storey, president of the ways and means committee spoke of the aims and objects of their organizations, and thanked the ladies for their effort.

Prizes were won by Mrs. A. Sutherland, Mrs. R. W. Marcer, Mrs. B. Farthing, Mrs. O. Cook, Mrs. E. Cull.

A LOVELIER YOU

By Mary Sue Miller

NEW USE FOR PEARLS. Would you believe it—a pearl choker can be the means of avoiding or overcoming crepey chin and throat? Its gentle pressure reminds you to hold your head high. And an habitually erect pose of the head is a chief factor in alleviating crepiness. Not to mention the prettiness and poise plusses in the carriage!

For a head that is prone to loll, wearing a choker obviously would prove a loveliness-saver. Should you decide on the course, be sure your choker fits snuggly, but not so snuggly as to constrict. And should it be unbecoming, wear it when you are not on view. A part-time remedy is better than none at all!

CREPEY THROAT AND CHIN

To firm and uplift sagging facial muscles and flesh, use my four-way method. It works wonders through corrective exercise, posture, skin care and make-up. Procedures are detailed in the leaflet, "BANISH CREPEY THROAT AND CHIN." For your copy, write me in care of your newspaper, enclosing 10c in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Party for Bride

Mrs. Richard Varley the former Muriel McLean, a recent bride, was honored when her cousin, Mrs. Nita Lyon, who was her matron of honor, entertained at a miscellaneous shower at her home, 1724 Cedar Hill Crossroad. Corsages were presented on arrival: pink carnations for the guest of honor, and chrysanthemums in autumn tones for her mother, Mrs. R. P. McLean and Mrs. L. Varley, mother of the groom. A wishing well held the pretty and useful gifts. The guests also included Mrs. C. Cluston, Mrs. Lorne McLean, Mrs. T. Cook, Mrs. L. Adams, Mrs. L. Marks, Mrs. Ken Murphy, Mrs. R. G. Lyon, and Misses Susan Young, Lynne Craig, Dorothy Ochs, Yvonne Christopher, Norma Ochs.

Fancy Dress Party Planned For Children

The regent, Mrs. P. W. Bell read an address given by Richard L. Thomas at the semi-annual meeting.

Three books on the 100 years history of B.C. will be sent to the adopted school. $9.00 was voted for this gift.

Toys contributed by members will be given to immigrant families for Christmas. Twenty nursery bags will be sent overseas.

New Members Welcomed

A meeting of the YMCA Ladies' Auxiliary was held recently at the "Y." Mrs. R. A. Dykes welcomed four new members, Mrs. H. E. Botterell, Mrs. M. S. Hedley, Mrs. G. H. Simons and Mrs. F. E. Waring.

Mrs. H. Hawkins, social convener, announced that the Christmas meeting would be held as a coffee party at the home of Mrs. W. F. Munro on December 5 at 11.30 a.m.

Mrs. W. F. Munro, chairman of the house committee, announced the completion of the redecoration of eight rooms.

Art Discussed At B & P Dinner

The development of Canadian art was the subject of a panel of five speakers at the national night dinner of the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club on Monday evening in the club rooms, 904 Government Street.

Mrs. E Mayne spoke on the growth of drama in Canada. Mrs. Mayne pointed out the growth of drama began in the depression years. Great credit for the development of drama in Canada must be given to a Victoria man Major Bullock Webster, who started drama schools and instituted the drama festivals, the speaker continued. Highlight of Canadian drama in Canada is Stratford, Mrs. May Canada is Stratford, Mrs. Mayne continued and she spoke highly of the Theatre Under the Stars, which has been running for 18 seasons in Vancouver.

Canadian verse was the subject of the next speaker, Miss Jean Curnell, who said poetry needed the fertile soil of culture in which to flourish. Bliss Carmen, Chas. G. D. Roberts, Archibald Lampman and Frederick G. Scott were four friends who inaugurated the golden age of poetry in Canada in 1890. In later years many new names are being added, and there is a great upsurging of art, the speaker continued. In mentioning present day poets the speaker spoke most highly of Audrey Alexandra Brown of Victoria who she said is one of Canada's outstanding writers today.

Tracing the history of music in Canada from the earliest days of the explorers Mrs. A. Henning said music played an important part in the success of any country. As the land was settled church music was developed to a high degree, and later as the voyageurs travelled through the land folk songs became part of Canadian culture. After Confederation national hymns were composed, the Maple Leaf and O Canada. Subscription concerts later were developed. The speaker regretted the fact that many Canadian artists had to leave their homeland because of lack of sponsorship.

Prose writers of Canada were convincingly discussed by Mrs. Eve Goodman who felt that Sir Gilbert Parker writes in the romantic vein. Stephen Leacock supreme debunker and gentle satirist, Mazo de la Roche whose simple flowing language and unaffected style of writing the White Oaks stories, and Ernest Buckler whose every word is chosen with meticulous care as to its shade of meaning, merited a high place among Canada's outstanding prose writers.

Creative artists who expressed themselves freely are exponents of Canadian fine arts said the final speaker, Mrs. B. Woodward. Art, she continued never dies, it's always living and vital. The speaker went on to say how the Canadian Arts Council sponsored art galleries and schools where a talented student could study and exhibit work.

Miss M. Gibson thanked the speakers.

Miss E. Brett was convener of the program and conducted the meeting.

Preceeding the meeting dinner was served at tables artistically decorated with maple leaves and chrysanthemums. Colorful coats of arms of the various provinces were displayed on the platform.

Seated at the head table with the president, Mrs R Masters was Miss H. Hesson past national president, Miss E Brett second vice president; Miss M. Gibson, Mrs E Mayne, Mrs E Goodman and Mrs. A. Henning.

Toastmistress Club Celebrates Birthday

The Victoria Toastmistress Club celebrated its 12th birthday at a dinner meeting in the Monterey Restaurant. Seated at the head table with the president, Mrs H. P Mickelson, were the toastmistress of the evening, Miss G. MacKay Miss M. Collingham, and the only charter member Mrs J. Carter.

The table topic was led by Mrs T. Ward. In her Oscar-winning speech Mrs. Carter gave a brief history of the club pointing out that it had been the first toastmistress club chartered in the British Empire. A festive touch was added by Mrs. B. MacMillan in her Spur-winning speech.

Two new members Mrs S A Ratcliffe and Mrs P McAllister gave introductory speeches. Mrs H. Egan gave an informative education talk.

Impromptu talks were given by Mrs. Mickelson Mrs. [illegible] Bourcier, and Miss A Harness. Mrs V. Rayment climaxed the evening with an interesting account of the ruby throated hummingbird.

Vote of thanks was expressed by Miss B Heim and critics were Mrs L Gordon Miss P L'Amie, and Mrs C C Warren. Mrs. B. Grant was language critic and evaluator was Miss Maidi Cottingham.

Plans were laid for a Christmas party and for the sponsoring of the Little Theatre Guild's play "Duet for Two Hands."

Mrs. Hanley President Of Legion Auxiliary

PARKSVILLE — Mrs. G. V. Hanley was installed as president of Mt Arrowsmith Branch No. 49, Canadian Legion Ladies' Auxiliary at a ceremony conducted by Mrs Ethel Armishaw of Provincial Command at Parksville Legion Hall.

Other officers installed were first vice president Mrs Sydney Goff, second vice-president Mrs A D Braddock; secretary Mrs. T. C. Tryon; treasurer Mrs G. L. Simpson; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. J. P. Smith; executive committee, Mrs. Prudence Beuselinck and Mrs. C H Leffler. Mrs. John Britton will be installed later.

Mrs. Armishaw presented past president's pins to Mrs A D Braddock and Mrs. T. C Tryon, immediate past president. Plans were made for the Upper Vancouver Island District Council meeting to be held at Parksville Friday, Dec. 6.

Island Weavers Plant Toured

Members of the Engineer Wives Association recently held a luncheon at the Olde England Inn.

Mr. Howland of Island Weavers gave an interesting talk on the origin of the firm and the art of weaving. An item of interest was the fact that the first loom had been set up in the residence now known as the Olde England Inn.

Following the luncheon the members toured the Island Weavers plant.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs H Matthews, Mrs J. W. Warr, Mrs. W. E. Rolls and Mrs N. S. Hepburn.

Clubs and Societies

Speaking to the Registered Music Teachers at the November meeting John Munday gave highlights of his recent trip to South America. The address was illustrated by colored slides of Ecuador and Peru. The meeting was held at the home of the president Eric Edwards, 119 Linden Avenue. Mrs. W. Boulter convened the social hour which followed.

What's Cooking!

By Frances Thompson

Veal Excellent Buy Just Now

Because we talked yesterday at some length about the welfare of our elderly citizens our allotted space could only include one recipe. And since tomorrow is question and answer day let's swing right away into week-end suggestions without further ado.

Checking with my most helpful butcher he tells me veal is excellent just now and will be for the next few weeks. So if you're having a roast on Saturday or Sunday how does the following idea appeal? . . .

BRAISED SHOULDER OF VEAL

(about 8 servings)

If yours is a small household this can be served hot with gravy one day, cold the next with an unusual mayonnaise for which I'll give you the recipe in a minute.

5-pound shoulder of veal, 1½ teaspoons powdered ginger, 2 teaspoons dry mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons shortening.

Sift together ginger, mustard, salt and flour. Coat veal thoroughly with these dry ingredients. (I take the palm of the hand and rub the mixture well into the meat.) Brown veal on all sides in hot shortening in a heavy saucepan. Add ½ cup water. Cover closely and simmer slowly for 2½ to 3 hours or until meat is very tender when tested with metal meat skewer. If necessary, add small amount of additional water during cooking. Remove meat and make thick gravy from the drippings.

FRUITY VEGETABLE MAYONNAISE

(makes 1⅓ cups sauce)

This is a suggestion to serve with the cold, sliced veal on the second day of its appearance.

1 cup mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon chopped celery, 2 tablespoons finely chopped apple, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, ¼ teaspoon papriko.

Combine all ingredients thoroughly and let stand at least 1 hour before serving. I admit it sounds a bit odd but do just try it as a very novel touch.

And here's yet another idea for lifting the ordinary vegetables out of a rut.

GREEN BEANS WITH CHEESE

Cook the beans in a reasonably small amount of boiling salted water, remembering my recent hint about cutting them on the slant with a pair of sharp kitchen scissors. Then to every cup of hot, cooked, drained green beans add about ½ cup grated Cheddor cheese; ¼ cup table cream and 1 tablespoon butter. Season with salt and pepper, reheat till cheese melts and serve piping hot.

Next comes a cake recipe which you might possibly care to make for this weekend if you are entertaining, or else clip it for use over Christmas.

CHOCOLATE HONEY CAKE

Two cups sifted cake flour; 1½ teaspoons baking soda; ½ teaspoon salt; ½ cup butter or other shortening, 1¼ cups honey; 2 eggs, unbeaten, 3 squares unsweetened chocolate; ⅔ cup water, if using butter or margarine—¾ cup water, if using vegetable shortening. 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Sift flour once, measure, add soda and salt and sift all together three times. Cream butter, add honey very gradually beating hard after each addition to keep mixture thick. Add about ¼ of the flour mixture and beat until smooth and well blended. Add eggs one at a time beating well after each. Add melted chocolate and blend. Then add remaining flour in thirds, alternately with the water, beating very well after eoch oddition. Lastly, stir in the vanilla. Turn into two greased 9-inch layer pans. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees about 35 minutes.

Miss M. Nutt Attends Rally

Miss Margaret Nutt, Presbyterian Regional secretary for the B.C. synodical addressed a rally of the WMS auxiliaries in the city, in St. Andrew's lecture room.

Miss Nutt plans to visit all the Presbyterian congregations on the Island. This is her get-acquainted sojourn. At a later date she will return to make a more extensive survey.

In her address she outlined the more pressing needs of the church's work.

Miss W. Ripley, deaconess for the Victoria Presbytery, also spoke.

Mrs. David Taylor sang a solo and Mrs. G. Cordiner displayed WMS literature.

The meeting was jointly chaired by Mrs. W. Draper and Mrs. F. O. Jenkinson.

Mrs. J. L. W. McLean conducted the devotionals. The speakers were thanked by Mrs. F. Warren and Mrs. F. Jenkinson.

Take Part In Recital

An interesting recital was given recently by the Registered Music Teachers' Association of Victoria in the Newstead Hall. The major portion was made up of piano selections of both modern and classic composers.

Those taking part were: piano, Maureen Edge, Margaret Brown, Corinne Israel, Robin Burns, Barbara Langton, Sharon MacKay, Virginia Taylor, Linda McConnell, Patricia Evans, Lynda Wallace, Rick Wainwright, Mary Helen Johanson, Shirley Booth, Judy Taylor, John Corkill, Norrie Smith, Evelyn Bowering and Dianne Trumble. Voice, Barbara White and Marion Espin.

Garden Notes

Plant Now, Prune Later

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

To become a really successful gardener, it is necessary to develop one's judgment in assigning priorities to the garden jobs pending.

First things first should be your motto, and it means deciding which piece of work will not wait, and do it immediately weather and soil condi- [illegible] more interesting another job may be. This is especially important at this season of the year.

The digging over of the vegetable plot and vacant flower beds, pruning, the planting of trees and shrubs, garden alterations—all these are on the list of necessary work but planting and transplanting are by far the most urgent.

It makes a tremendous difference if fruit trees, roses and flowering shrubs are planted before Christmas rather than later, while most pruning can be done any time before mid-March.

Another point to remember is this: While pruning and training can be done between showers during a wettish period, planting and digging are only possible when the soil is in reasonable workable condition.

So it is best to make hay while the sun shines, pressing forward with all the digging, transplanting and planting of newly-purchased plants whenever the soil is dry enough, keeping the pruning and training jobs in reserve against the time when the soil is a sea of mud.

Incidently, when you tackle the pruning and tying-in of wall-trained fruit trees, vines, raspberries and the like, the work goes much better in dampish weather. The shoots are more flexible and are easier to train in where you want them and if you are using raffia for tying, it handles better when damp.

I must confess that I keep putting off the job of cutting out the old, flowered canes of the rambler roses and tying in the new ones, for it seems to me that when this is done too promptly after flowering, you lose all the autumn beauty of the colored hips and tinted foliage.

On the other hand, grape vines and their near relatives among the ornamental vines should be pruned as soon as possible after the leaves have dropped. This will give the cut surfaces a chance to heal and harden before sap-rise in early spring brings the danger of bleeding.

Clematis of the Jackmani and Viticella types may also be pruned now. Both these groups bear their lovely [illegible] start in the spring, and all last summer's shoots which have borne flowers should be cut back to a point near the parent branch.

Nellie Moser and similar kinds of Clematis are pruned entirely differently. This group bears its flowers in early summer from shoots arising from last year's growth and these need only a light pruning of the tips of older growths, and a little thinning out of weak unthrifty shoots.

Never put the knife to Clematis montana at this season of the year. All the young growths of this group will be garlanded with flowers next May and any cutting back necessary to keep the vine shapely should be done immediately after the flowering period.

The Viewing World

Win a Degree Via TV

In Chicago, you can now earn a junior college degree called an associate in arts degree, via television alone. A handful of people are already trying for it, starting this year on a three-year course. With TV station WTTW now in its third year and going ahead full steam, Chicago is the biggest city in the United States with an established educational TV station.

The station represents all the colleges in the city and the cultural institutions like museums and libraries. To get started they raised $1,000,000 in 1953 and they've had a couple of fund drives since. The studios are located in the Museum of Science and Industry where WTTW operates as an exhibit behind glass walls through which the public can watch it work.

At present WTTW is offering nine college courses for credit from the Chicago City Junior College which is tuition free for all legal residents of the city. They started last fall with four and the present nine includes two kine shows of last year's courses.

Thirteen hundred people enrolled for credit and paid registration fees for an average of two courses each last year. Some people took four courses and to the surprise of the college completed the work with entrance, mid-term and final exams taken at the college.

This year over 1,500 people are enrolled for credits, most of them taking two or more courses.

Ninety per cent of TV students last year were housewives with an average age of 36 years and they were very good students. TV students scored about 10 per cent higher in exams than regular college students.

* * *

When the drive for funds started, about half the people working to raise money were primarily interested in getting good children's programs on the air. In the beginning there wasn't much money to spend and the station was astounded at how well inexpensive programming caught on.

For instance, one show simply consisted of records with nothing on the screen but the cover of the album or perhaps an abstract painting which filled the mood of the music. This went on for two hours and was popular.

The station has found foreign language programs popular too. They gave 20 weeks of Italian lessons with the words flashed on the screen while the teacher talked. They have given a German course and right now they're carrying a French course on kine. WTTW programs for all age groups from pre-school up.

* * *

The big problem with educational television according to the WTTW people, is to get people to know you're there and to tune in. They've managed to do it. Two years ago, the man on the street would say vaguely that he thought educational television was a good thing for Chicago. Today he can name the programs that he thinks are good.

Hollywood Today

By Sheilah Graham

Tragedy Shades Her Triumph

HOLLYWOOD (NANA)—Jennifer Jones does the best job of her life in "A Farewell To Arms" and is a cinch to be nominated for another award. In my opinion, she may well win another Oscar.

* * *

Jennifer seems to attract success and personal tragedy at the same time. She won an Oscar for her first starring picture, "The Song of Bernadette"; then her marriage to Robert Walker went on the rocks. Now, with this great performance in a great picture, she has taken off for Switzerland, India or who knows where—or why. Maybe David Selznick does.

* * *

Mrs. Marlon Brando will soon be receiving a visit from Mrs. William O'Callaghan, now raising funds in Cardiff, Wales to make the trip to Hollywood to see the girl she still insists is her and William's daughter.

* * *

Edmund Purdom is toying with the idea of taking out U.S. citizenship. An excellent idea. It was in America that Purdom had his chance for stardom. His movies weren't good, but that's the way the dice rolls.

* * *

There's a report in Paris that Ingrid Bergman's entire salary for her picture with Cary Grant, "Indiscreet," goes to Rossellini, in the final settlement of their marriage. The woman always pays!

Mario Lanza is currently shelling out $80 a day for the famed Oliver Messel suite at the Dorchester in London. $560 a week! And without spaghetti!

British actress Ann Todd, once married to director David ("The Bridge on the River Kwai") Lean, goes back home for New Year's Eve, after her Dec. 26 Climax show. Then back to Broadway for another play. Her last one folded too soon.

One girl's baby is another's opportunity. Debbie Reynolds was going to work with Jerry Lewis in "Rockabye Baby." When the stork intervened, 19-year-old Connie Stevens was signed. Connie stood in line two years ago outside a New York theatre to get Jerry's autograph. Sy Devore designed $5,000 worth of new suits—14—for Jerry to wear in this picture. It's the first time you'll see a well-dressed Jerry on the screen.

The forgotten girl of pictures—Jean Seberg—hopes her performance in "Bonjour Tristesse" will make the critics and public forget her movie-debut flop in "St. Joan." No problem. If Jean is good in the French film.

Judy Canova celebrated her birthday last week, recording an album with brother Zeke and sister Ann to follow her "Pigtails in Hi-Fi." The Canovas were a trio 20 years ago, started with the Paul Whiteman band before their own show on radio, then TV.

Some of our top money names would do well to take notice of the fact that "Rodan," a 300-foot mechanical monster, and Robby The Robot, star of "Forbidden Planet" and "The Invisible Boy," are among the current top box-office draws.

Spotted Tony Curtis in the Beverly Wilshire pharmacy buying one of those sequined piggie banks that usually have markers reading "for my mink coat" or "for my Cadillac." The one Tony bought was labelled "for my trip to the moon."

Back in the early 30s, a couple of youngsters named Johnny Rau and Billy Barrett blazed a psychic trail across the tournament sky. Their victories won them the title of "boy wonders." Then Barrett returned to his native Georgia for a successful political career. In a recent rubber game in New York, however, the old team was reunited. Playing the North-South hands against Lee Hazen and Sam Stayman, they refused to let the opponents' pre-emptive tactics talk them out of their grand slam bid. Unfortunately, those self-same pre-emptive tactics used up so many bidding levels that the slam was bid in the wrong suit.

South was able to trump the opening diamond lead but there was no way for him to get rid of his losing club. Played at seven hearts, however, North would have been able to discard two clubs on South's long spade suit and the grand slam would have come home.

Giving full credit to West for his four-diamond bid and to East for his imaginative jump to six diamonds, South realized that he had made a bad bid the moment he saw the dummy. Against non-vulnerable opponents, it is desirable to conceal the nature of your hand if, by revealing it, you run the risk of being outbid. But the opponents had already indicated that they had no intention of permitting North-South to play the hand at a makeable six contract. South should have foreseen the possibility of having to decide whether or not to bid seven, and if so, at what suit. Since both his suits were higher than East-West's, his grand slam bid could not be overcalled. Therefore, South should have bid six hearts instead of six spades.

North generously took part of the blame. "I could have bid seven hearts instead of seven spades," he said. Proving that, win or lose, the old Barrett-Rau combination is still a wonderful partnership.

Emergency Workers Pulled From Four Pulp Plants

VANCOUVER (CP) Emergency workers were withdrawn from four of British Columbia's nine strikebound pulp and paper plants Thursday as part of a "tightening up" move by unions following a breakdown in negotiations.

H. L. Hansen, international vice-president of the Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers Union announced the move. He said only those mills which did not supply heat or power to company towns are affected.

Mr Hansen said the men had been patrolling the four mills and safeguarding equipment. He declined to say whether their withdrawal would lead to damage to the equipment or cause any additional delay in starting up production at the end of the strike.

D. R. Blair, manager of the Pulp and Paper Industrial Relations Bureau which represents the seven companies affected by the strike, said the move creates no problems at

Ramsay Attacks

Arena Boss Under Fire, Probe Due

An attack by Ald. Hugh Ramsay on Joseph Dukowski's management of the Memorial Arena led city [illegible] gate and make a report.

Ald. Ramsay told council he wanted to express "complete lack of confidence" in Mr. Dukowski as arena manager.

Council at a previous meeting had been witness to some of his reasons, he said.

"MISREPRESENTATION"

Mr. Dukowski had told council the press had not approached him for his opinions on plastic pipe as published in the papers. The fact was, Ald. Ramsay said, that he had asked reporters to put his opinion in the papers: this was "gross misrepresentation of the worst kind."

Ald. Ramsay asserted that Mr. Dukowski had read to council only half of a sentence in the report of an engineering firm dealing with the level of acidity or alkalinity in brine pipes, "again a gross misrepresentation of facts."

"RUST HASTENED"

The report made in 1951 indicated that the "Ph" level had been too high, hastening corrosion, Ald. Ramsay said, and "I think if it had been acted upon at once we would not have had a floor problem today."

The arena commission had informed city council that the city engineer's recommendations regarding Ph values would be followed in future, and a couple of days later, Ald. Ramsay said, Mr. Dukowski had made a public statement criticizing the city engineer and claiming the Ph values had little significance.

"I don't see how we can have any confidence in this sort of management at the top level, with a salary of $9,240 a year," he said. (That figure includes $600 car allowance.)

AGED SOAP IS BETTER TOO!

Soap bars last longer if unwrapped and left to "age" several weeks before using. Moisture dries out, makes soap harder, more durable.

For more durable tenants take your time in selecting prospects carefully. Classified ads reach folks looking for places in every section of town. Describe your vacancy accurately, choose your tenant patiently and he's more likely to stay longer. Call 3-4111 or 2-3131.

EVERYTHING FOR HOME BUILDERS

THE FAMILY CAR

Has been a necessary and useful article for many years. However, like many other things the family habits are changing and instead of the family car we see so many of the nice new family Ranchwagons and Stationwagon cars on the road today. In fact in many parts of the country the Stationwagon has become so popular that Showrooms and Salesmen have been set up to sell Stationwagons. You see although styles change families still like to do things together such as going on holidays camping to the beach and picnics and what can be more pleasurable than an [illegible] the Ranchwagon [illegible] can be a practical and useful family car in many other ways for instance it's so easy to drive down to the lumberyard and pick up the odd piece of lumber, a few pieces of Plywood, some Wallboard, Floor Tiles and the other accessories that go for home modernizing projects. It's fun also to have the family join in on these events, let them have a share in planning that new Rumpus Room or activities room in the basement, a spare bedroom in the attic or putting new panelling on those bedrooms with cracked plaster. Yes the whole family can have fun and be a wonderful help in unmasking these small remodelling and renovating jobs around home.

THIS WEEK

We have some wonderful specials for fixing things around home. So collect up the family, drive down in the Ranchwagon and see some of these bargains for yourself. Here's the first: Factory Grade Sylvester Hardboard. This Hardboard is ⅛" thick and comes factory painted; it can be left with the factory finish or it can be painted to the color of your choice. This board is unusually practical for ceilings and walls in kitchens, bathrooms, basement rooms on both walls and ceiling. It is a very dense hardboard and will take lots of rough wear. Sylvester has an especially decorative effect by the appearance from the recessed squares which are in 12x12 and 16x16 squares; when the panels join up the wall joints are barely visible because of this unique pattern effect contained in the Hardboard. Sheet sizes are 4x8 ⅛ thick only $1.85.

Secondly we have another shipment of D Grade Weldtex Panels. These Weldtex Panels have been rejected for the hit and miss appearance on the face of the panel. However they are still very practical and useful for a decorative effect in lining basement rooms, attics and garages or any place where the final finish is not too all important. At these prices, of course, it is less than half the price of the regular stock and is just as reasonable as some of the ordinary rough plywood available. Sheet sizes are 48x96x⅜ thick and only $2.85 per sheet, while the supply lasts.

To finish off the room you will undoubtedly need to include one or two doors or perhaps more including the closets. Just this week we have received a new shipment of "C" Grade Fir Plywood Doors and instead of the usual limited sizes are able to offer a fairly complete range of doors in these bargain prices.

2-4x6-8x1⅜",	each	$7.30
2-8x6-8x1⅜",	each	$7.25
2-6x6-8x1⅜",	each	$7.00
2-0x6-8x1⅜",	each	$7.10
2-10x6-10x1⅜",	each	$8.00
3-0x7-0x1⅜",	each	$8.00

At these prices our ⅜" thick doors are excellent buying for desk tops, table tops, and even solid partitions in certain areas where practical.

You'll need Butt Hinges too and here is a special—3½x3½ Steel Butts, good quality, at only, a pair 67c.

YOU CAN'T AVOID IT

The Christmas is coming and the pleasures will be on and among the things which you might plan early is the matter of home decorations. This year the plywood manufacturers have excelled themselves in making available a nice variety of Christmas cut-outs for exterior decorations. These large paper cut-outs are available in four different patterns. These is (1) the Santa Claus pattern, (2) the Reindeer pattern, (3) the Sleigh pattern, and (4) the three Choir Boys pattern.

These patterns are all easily colored and ready to paste onto ordinary plywood and then simply cut out with a bandsaw or jigsaw. These figures go up to six feet tall in height and are really very realistic and attractive. All you do is paste them to a sheet of ¼x4x8 plywood which is available at $4.25 per sheet. These patterns when covered with a sealer of ordinary varnish will stand up on the exterior under all types of weather conditions. Cost of plans is only 85c for any of the items listed above. Drop down to our yard and see the actual plans set up on plywood backgrounds exactly as they can appear on your home.

DO IT EARLY

You pick out those Christmas gifts early this year for that man of the house. You know any man appreciates a good tool to work in the basement or the hobby shop, and there is nothing like making it a practical gift for Christmas this year. Selection is complete now of the very finest variety of hand tools that we have seen in a long time. Manufactured by the famous Stanley Company and all items are individually and attractively boxed in gift-wrapped boxes so that it will fit the occasion and certainly be a surprise on Christmas morn to that husband or son.

Stanley Torpedo Levels each	$3.10
16-oz Nail Hammers each	$5.00
7" Long Lock Planes each	$8.00
6' Pull Steel Tapes each	$1.75
Stanley Combination Square	$4.75
Stanley Metal Mitre Box	$9.45
Stanley Ratchet Brace	[illegible]
Handiman Saw & Drill	$5.00
Handiman Chisel Set	$3.45
B[illegible] Stanley Planes	$12.00

These items can be put away on our Christmas lay-away plan.

Treat the whole family but don't wait until Christmas! Buy a regulation size Ping Pong table and have family fun all winter even while waiting for Christmas. Table top is 5x9 and comes in two pieces of Plywood ¾" thick. Also available the demountable legs made of interlocking Plywood pieces which are as handy for putting up and taking down in limited areas. Prices are reasonable too.

Unpainted tops each	$17.75
Demountable legs unpainted	$11.50
Painted table tops with green and white liner	$25.00
Painted demountable legs	$17.00

FOR THOSE

who must work and keep the building program going we have new shipments of building lumber arriving. Priced at special low Winter prices you will find it worthwhile to visit our yard and see a large selection available at these prices.

Here is a handy item for the lining of the basement, garage, summer workshop or even house sheathing. It is not always available so we like to tell you about this shipment of 1"x6" Cedar Tongue and Groove panelling. It's a mill-run mixed grade but of pretty good average quality. Hundred four pieces to the bundle and a bundle of 6' lengths costs you only 60c and a bundle of four pieces 8' long costs you 80c.

SAND AND GRAVEL

Yes we maintain a complete service in Sand and Gravel for concrete mix, drain gravel, and road gravel to muddy driveways or other places where gravel fill is needed. We can take care of all your sand and gravel requirements which allows you to keep all your purchases under one convenient charge account. Take advantage of our complete service in all home building needs.

We also have a rental service in Roofing Tackers, Caulking Guns, Portable Hand Sanders and Post-hole Diggers. For service and satisfaction, call on—

Plywood Cut-Outs for Fun Before Christmas

Here's pleasure for you and your family and for those who pass by to see and admire your handiwork. We have on hand these patterns for plywood cutouts for Christmas decoration

2 Singing Angels
Santa Claus
Santa's Reindeer
Santa's Sleigh
3 Choir Boys
... all in attractive colors

Here's the Plywood

You may use any thickness of plywood you wish but we suggest either of the following
One 4x8 sheet ¼ 3 ply at $4.15 plus one pattern, 50c or
One 4x8 sheet of ⅜ 3 ply at $4.75 plus one pattern, 80c
You merely require a keyhole saw, jig or bandsaw. Simply glue the pattern to the plywood and cut around outline. A coat of exterior varnish will waterproof it. You'll have a figure or set of figures that will brighten your garden for many a Yuletide season.
To make figure stand nail a piece of common 1x4 or 2x2 to back of figure leaving a foot or so protruding at the bottom. Sharpen and drive in ground.
If you wish we will cut the figure for you at a very nominal cost. This is not a great money-making project for us. We are hoping that once you have used the plywood and found how easy it is to work you will realize how many useful articles you can make and if we have given you courteous helpful service will think of us when that time comes.

Ping Pong Tables

Another idea for Christmas and family fun
5-piece tops regulation size unpainted. Per pair $17.70
Complete with trestles set $31.35
5-piece tops painted and lined pair $25.00
Complete with trestles set $42.00
2-piece tops including hinges (unpainted) per set $21.10
Using your own saw horses you will find this table an inexpensive source of pleasure and so easy to fold and store.

Reminding You

That, if ready cash is holding up that home improvement plan of yours, terms can be quickly arranged by phoning our accountant who will be pleased to discuss and outline our budget plan.

TV TALK

By Bruce Lowther

Barely two weeks after BBC-TV said it would stop trying to compete with commercial TV, the commercial network has decided to invade BBC's private domain—the arts.

Sir Robert Fraser, boss of commercial TV, says that "for those who love the arts, it is important that TV should accept the responsibility of increasing the small population of this happy and enviable world. Independent [illegible] in 1958, and from a glance I have had at the plans, it will not be for want of trying if we fail."

Sir Robert also said growth of commercial TV has been so enormous (200,000 new homes each month for two years) that there is enough money on hand to support a second commercial network.

"What a scare! For awhile I was afraid there was nothing wrong with it!"

WEDNESDAY REVIEW: I'll be darned if I can come up with any description of "Annie Get Your Gun" other than that it was the best spectacular I've seen since I got a set, and Mary Martin is a real star. Let us hope it will be repeated soon . . . Harbor Command likely will become as popular as Highway Patrol, since it's exactly the same thing, except that it's on water.

TV BITS: Frank Sinatra adds an audience tonight, channel 13 starts PCL hockey, Almanac discusses fluoridation and the best movies are "Brief Encounter" and "Gentlemen's Agreement." Channel 4 plans to break into any programs for several days, starting today, to show Hawaii Kai's try for a water speed record on Lake Washington . . . A week after NBC said recording of programs for later use will be done by tape as of April, CBS says it will spend $3,000,000 to make the same change at the same time. Use of tape will end much of the schedule-wrecking by daylight time . . . There's money in old movies. NTA, which has the 20th-Century-Fox output, reports a profit in the past year 148 per cent higher than the previous year.

There's also money in re-runs. In the past year, Screen Actors' Guild sent out 39,600 cheques totalling more than $2,500,000 in residuals . . . 20th-Century-Fox has told theatre owners that, in future, its films will be kept from TV for five years—no more . . . Guild Films will sell 1,200 old RKO short subjects to TV stations next year . . . Howard Morris won't be back with Sid Caesar. Morris wants drama and will start with a role in "Twelfth Night" on NBC Dec. 15 . . . At Warner's studios in Hollywood, Jack Warner's son-in-law, Bill Orr, was sort of brushed off two years ago when he got the job of TV director. Now, TV makes more money for Warners than movies do.

Rita Del Mar's Daily Astrology

FRIDAY, NOV. 29, 1957

Today's quotation: "Nowadays if men are more serious than women, it's because their clothes are darker."—Andre Gide.

Friday for everyone: Attend to practical matters, adjust yourself to situations as they develop. Be diplomatic in dealings with relatives, agents, and in connection with personal matters and contacts.

Look for Your Birthdate and Birthsign Below

March 21 to April 19 (Aries)—Find the answers to problems. Add to savings. Take care of what is under way rather than pioneer new things.

April 20 to May 20 (Taurus)—Fraternize: but not to the detriment of duties. Use tact in dealings with friends and associates.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Be practical. Care for responsibilities to parents or higher-ups but do not assume additional ones.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer)—Recheck decisions; use discretion in reference to plans, diet, health and work; use extra care en route.

July 23 to Aug. 22 (Leo)—Complete projects. Protect yourself regarding mutual or joint resources. Be economical, practical.

Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 (Virgo)—Attain fulfillment; be harmonious, courteous. Be wary in dealings with another or others.

Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 (Libra) — Demonstrate your capabilities. Be cautious concerning job or health and be conscientious in discharging duties.

Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 (Scorpio)—Get ahead if you can do so without accepting heavy responsibilities. Bank on your capability rather than taking risks.

Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 (Sagittarius)—Be around your home, base or office; be impersonal; refrain from forcing issues.

Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 (Capricorn)—Keep busy, write cooler. However, maintain accord; don't be hasty. Be wary as to what you sign or promise.

Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 (Aquarius)—Reinforce the bankroll. Don't make inroads on reserves. Keep your eye on movable belongings.

Feb. 19 to March 20 (Pisces)—Call upon your own best judgment in order to further relationships. Be as self-reliant as possible; don't rely on co-operation.

Planning ahead—Good for entertaining, sociability, etc.: Morning of Nov 30; Dec. 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 7, 12.

MODERN AS TOMORROW!

The sharp, clean lines of this de luxe home rise high against a wooded background to capture a view of the sea from two sides. The interior reflects the good taste and modern thinking of the designer and will delight the most discriminating buyer. From the front door a graceful stairway rises to a central foyer—to the east to an 18'x27' sunken living room featuring a wall of windows, bricked to ceiling fireplace with raised hearth and French doors leading to a paved patio. There is a charming dining room which also opens onto the patio and the adjoining kitchen is colorful and convenient with mahogany cupboards, double stainless steel sink, breakfast space and of course plenty of windows. The three bedrooms are spacious—each with double clothes closets, and the bathroom is ultra-smart with colored fixtures and contrasting tile. The part basement contains an automatic oil hot-water heating unit, automatic laundry, electric hot-water heater, workshop and double drive-in garage. INVITATION TO TENDER
CORPORATION OF THE VILLAGE OF CAMPBELL RIVER
CAMPBELL RIVER, BRITISH COLUMBIA
TENDERS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF EXTENSIONS TO THE SANITARY SEWERAGE SYSTEM

Sealed tenders endorsed on the envelope "Tender for Construction of Extensions to Campbell River Sewerage System" will be received by the Village Clerk at the Village Office, Campbell River, B.C. up to 2:00 p.m. Pacific Standard Time Wednesday, December 11, 1957, for the construction of Extensions to the Sanitary Sewerage System. The work will comprise the supply of all materials and the construction of the following approximate quantities of gravity sewers, manholes and service connections:
4,000 lineal feet of 8" sewer mains
300 lineal feet of manholes
300 lineal feet of 4" service connections

Plans and specifications may be examined at the office of the Associated Engineering Services Ltd. or at the office of the Village Clerk, on or after November 27, 1957, and copies of the same may be obtained after this date by bona fide tenderers at the offices of the Engineer, or of the Village Clerk, upon deposit of twenty-five dollars ($25.00). This deposit shall be refunded following the return of the plans and specifications and the submission of a tender. If a Contractor does not submit a tender, his deposit will be refunded only if the plans and specifications are returned in good condition prior to the date for closing tenders.

The tender shall be accompanied by either a certified cheque in the amount of ten per cent (10%) of the Tender Price and a letter of consent signed by a Surety Company or a suitable bid bond in the amount of ten per cent (10%) of the Tender Price.

The lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

Fights to Stay at School

In Ipoh, in Malay's Penang province, a young student is carried to an ambulance by a policeman after resisting order to leave school. Government decided to weed out over-age students in grade and high schools but ran into opposition from students themselves. About 3,000 youths clashed with police, using stones and bottles against the officials' canes, tear gas and batons. Several students were injured.

Hillary Cut Off

Long Polar Trek Makes 25 Miles

LONDON (Reuters)—A British Commonwealth expedition has travelled about 25 miles in its bid to make a 2,100-mile first land crossing of the Antarctic, its headquarters here said yesterday.

The 10-man party, which left Shackleton base Sunday night, was about 25 miles south of the starting point Wednesday, the report said.

Meanwhile, a report from New Zealand said bad weather had cut air contact with another expedition led by Sir Edmund Hillary, conqueror of Mount Everest, who plans to meet the Commonwealth party during its trek.

Headquarters said the Commonwealth team had made a good start. When the trek by snow vehicle and dog team began, it was said expedition leader Vivian Fuchs and his men expected to travel 20 to 30 miles daily.

The group ran into trouble at crevasses but the trip now is going well, expedition headquarters added.

The party hopes to reach New Zealand's Scott base via the Pole by February. The men plan to rendezvous about Jan. 10 with a party led by New Zealander Hillary, who left

'Enough A-Weapons To End Life on Earth'

NEW DELHI (CP)—Prime Minister Nehru appealed yesterday to "the great leaders of the United States and the Soviet Union" to end nuclear tests and agree on disarmament.

Nehru read a prepared statement to a press conference but declined to say whether India will send the appeal directly to President Eisenhower and Soviet Communist chief Nikita Khrushchev.

A government information officer said copies of the statement will be handed to all foreign embassies here for transmission to their governments.

Nehru said the world faces a crisis in civilization. "I believe it is in the power of America and Russia to solve this crisis and save humanity from ultimate disaster which faces it."

Nehru said there now are enough weapons of mass destruction to put an end to life on earth.

U.K. Press Urges Ike to Quit

'Give Nixon Chance To Show His Worth'

LONDON (Reuters)—Three British newspapers are urging President Eisenhower to retire and focus a searching look at Vice-President Richard Nixon as his successor.

[illegible] The Daily Mail and The Daily Mirror say the burden of the United States presidency is too great for a man whose health is uncertain.

"To demand that the president should carry on is almost too much to ask," says The Daily Mail, Conservative.

BEST EARNED

"He has earned the rest and the chance of real recovery which complete severance from work and worry alone can give him, and if only in his own interests he should seek release."

The Scotsman, independent, says the work of a president is almost more than a fit man could perform and Eisenhower should resign.

"His duty to America and to America's allies is clear," says the left-wing Daily Mirror. "He should hand over the presidency as promptly as possible and restore some confidence in Western leadership."

The Mirror says no one can tell yet how Vice-President Nixon would shape up as president.

"Too slick? Too much of a salesman? Too inexperienced in world politics?

"Maybe. But Nixon has one supreme advantage. He is only 44. Young enough to learn [illegible] of the most exhausting jobs in the world.

"The pace in 1957 is too hot for the old uns. This is the year of the Sputniks. Aged minds, tired brains, sick bodies cannot keep up with the headlong pace of events."

The Manchester Guardian, Liberal, says Nixon "seems likely to step out more boldly towards the centre of power."

The News Chronicle, Liberal, says that to much of the world "Mr. Nixon looks almost as small today as Mr. Truman did before destiny swept him in the [illegible] do strange things."

Montreal Bonds

MONTREAL (CP)—The Canada market was quiet and unchanged in trading on Montreal bond markets. Provincials were unchanged. The corporate market was firm and moderately active, with recent issues up about a quarter of a point.

Despite Eisenhower Illness

'Summit' Parley Will Take Place

PARIS (AP)—Paul-Henri Spaak, secretary-general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, announced yesterday that the "summit" meeting of NATO's chiefs of government will go ahead as planned despite the illness of President Eisenhower.

A communique issued after a meeting of the permanent NATO council said the group had "learned with satisfaction" that Vice-President Nixon will head the U.S. delegation for the meeting.

The decision to go ahead with the three-day 15-nation session as planned was unanimous, a NATO spokesman said.

The possibility that Eisenhower will be able to attend the Dec. 16-18 talks was not ruled out in Washington.

Low Cut, Front and Back

Sparkling Queen, Princess Wear Most Daring Gowns

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret Wednesday night wore a couple of the most daring evening dresses of their royal social careers.

The royal sisters didn't appear together. This was just as well for the joint effect of their ultra-modern clothes might have been too electrifying.

The Queen's appearance was at a British Museum reception in London.

Princess Margaret was the guest of honor at a students' ball in Staffordshire.

Elizabeth donned a full-skirted dress of white tulle cut low in the front and the back, and precariously held up by two tiny jewelled straps that hugged her trim white shoulders.

She also wore a sparkling tiara and a diamond and ruby necklace.

While the sovereign was appearing barebacked in London, Princess Margaret was doing the same thing in a strapless blue satin gown in rural Keele.

Partial to low-cut dresses, she must have been in love with the one she wore to the students' ball of University College of Staffordshire.

Around her neck she wore a necklace. There were pendant earrings at her ears.

The princess danced waltzes, rhumbas and did a modified jive when the band played the old New Orleans tune "When the Saints Go Marching In."

Eleven students were selected to dance with the princess. She made it even more democratic by asking the band leader, Nat Temple, to play three Paul Jones change-partners dances.

The idea was to dance with as many students as possible.

She was still at it at 2.30 a.m.

Men from whaling ships and sealers settled along the New Zealand coast from about 1792.

Neil Hindle Heads CCF In Victoria

Neil Hindle was elected president of the Victoria CCF Association at its annual meeting.

Victor Williams was elected vice-president; Mrs. May Campbell, secretary, and William Martin, treasurer.

Committee chairmen elected were W. B. Caird, Victor Williams, Doug McHugh, Mrs. Ruth Johnson and Charlie Crowe. Trustees elected were Bruce Loudon, Mr. Caird and Mrs. Campbell.

Mr. Hindle will also serve as organizer and provincial council representative.

Rock Causes Wreck

Freight cars crumpled together at Haig, 90 miles east of Vancouver, when rock from a tunnel struck engine and forced 18 cars off track. One worker lost a foot when arc-shaped rail snapped back as he helped clear wreckage. Passenger train passed through just three hours before accident.—(CP)

Marine Museum Plan Scrapped In Vancouver?

VANCOUVER (CP) — A ma[illegible] [illegible] as a centennial project for Vancouver was tentatively scrapped Thursday at a meeting of aldermen and centennial committee members.

At a special meeting in Mayor Fred Hume's office the group decided the $366,000 needed from a public subscription drive towards the cost of the $1,100,000 museum cannot be raised by Dec. 21, the deadline set by city council.

Council itself will have the final say on the meeting's decision at its gathering next Tuesday and will also consider an alternative project.

TWIN PROJECT

As an alternative a twin project has been proposed for a conservatory on Little Mountain in the heart of Vancouver and a permanent resting place for the RCMP schooner St. Roch. Both could be completed for about $[illegible].

[illegible] meeting [illegible] favored continuing work on the plan for a marine museum to be built in the Kitsilano area, but as a civic project and not the city's official project for British Columbia's centennial next year.

Mayor Hume said that although he does not favor putting the museum plan aside permanently. "We have run out of time and the money just isn't coming in."

"COULD HAVE GOT IT"

Architect Raymond [illegible] who planned the museum, said if council had a[illegible] just $700,000 the amount [illegible] able "you could have got it."

"But when I started drawing the plans everyone was talking airily about $1,500,000 and wanting all sorts of fancy things included."

New Legislation

Preview Coming Monday

OTTAWA (CP) — The government will give an outline Monday of any further legislation it intends to introduce at this session.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker gave this assurance to Opposition Leader St. Laurent in the Commons Thursday, coupled with a renewed indication that the government hopes the session will end before Christmas.

FOURTEEN ITEMS

Fourteen items of legislation are on the Commons order paper, many of them relatively minor measures. Two of the more important proposals involve larger outlays for agricultural price supports and an additional $150,000,000 for housing loans.

In addition, the bulk of the government's departmental spending estimates for the current fiscal year started last April 1 remain to be approved.
